

Let's Take a Look

NOTES ABOUT OUR TOWN

He was a polite, smiling youth. . . .
I was walking uptown when he greeted me with a cheerful, "Good morning, Sir!"
The tow-headed-five-year-old (yes, he proudly told me his age at once), was on his way to Lincoln School when he decided to walk a few paces with me.
So, I shortened my stride.
We talked of many things . . . and as we prepared to part he said:
"You know, Sir, I like Highland Park. It's such a friendly place. So long."
And with that he turned, met a playmate and ran off to school.
He was such a happy young fellow.
He had real peace of mind.
It was a bright and beautiful morning . . . and it was good to hear this love for our town expressed so simply. Yet so well. . . .

PRaises ART VETTER . . .

Highland Park is a splendid town for many reasons.
Credit our courteous and faithful merchants for much of the good that's in Highland Park.
Take Art Vetter of Vetter Electric Service, for example.
Here's a man who believes in the Golden Rule . . . and then goes out and practices it.
"I've lived in Highland Park all my life. Yet I've traveled quite a bit, too. But I've never found such fine folks as we have here."
That's what likable Art Vetter told me the other day, adding:
"You know, each year my wife gets sweeter and I love her more; she has been a big help to me."

POSITIVE APPROACH TO LIFE

It's Art Vetter's positive approach to life that causes so many satisfied customers to stick by him.
Mr. Vetter treats his fellow workers as he likes to be treated—fairly, honestly, courteously. He pays good salaries, raises wages frequently but doesn't up his service call charges accordingly.

For a long time now I've wanted to give Art Vetter a written-slap-on-the-back for his grand work in helping to make our town better—"Vetter and Better" always, if I might lift a bit from the Vetter advertising!

CONGRATULATIONS, BEVERLY and HELEN

We're about one week late in print with this, but we think they will understand. . . .
Here's a BIG CONGRATULATIONS to our two pretty and able secretaries, Helen Jane Robertson and Beverly Mett. . . .
That congratulations is for many things, young ladies . . . your graduation from high school last week and your fine grades . . . your excellent record . . . your courtesy . . . your promptness . . . your willingness . . . your splendid work for Northmore's.
May your lives always be bright and happy. . . .

$200 REWARD . . .

My new and constant companion, Pat, will be watching my actions even more closely after this appears. . . .
(She likes to buy new dresses, etc., etc., etc. . . .)
So rigid has my training been during the last year that I'm now willing to offer a $200 reward to anyone if he ever sees me throw any form of rubbish on any of Highland Park's streets.

That's $100 more than last year. It pays to keep Highland Park's streets clean!

LIKE THAT SONG . . .

Around here we think Kay Kayser's "Woody Woodpecker's" is a dandy, destined for top rating on hit parades, slated for much humming by the nation's amateur singers.
It's surely a catchy tune, isn't it?

WHO WE'RE FOR . . .

Well, it's time to pick our Republican candidate for President. Now . . . after reading everything available on each of the big four hopefuls (Taft, Dewey, Stassen and Vandenberg) . . . and interviewing folks who know each one . . . and meeting and talking to two—Taft and Stassen—here's our thinking.

Vandenberg? Nope. Why? He doesn't want the post. He has said so scores of times, has used up valuable newsprint saying he doesn't want the job. I believe the able senator. I'd not believe him if he accepted. Besides, I believe he's too far up in years. And that would mean, perhaps, that we'd have a "vice-president" running the nation. And that's not so good, you'll remember.

Stassen? Nope. Definitely. Why? He's not a BIG enough man for the job. And, besides, he breaks promises. Maybe later. Not now.

Dewey? Yes. Why? He's smart, capable, a proven administrator who is an executive and who brings in Americans who can get jobs done. He's our choice for either the Presidency or the Vice presidency. I've heard he's a bit of an opportunist. But aren't we all?

Taft, Yes. Definitely. Why? The most qualified by far. The present Congress, who, by and large, have done a good job, stand on Taft's record. He's intelligent, forthright, conscientious; he's a clear and deep thinker. He's familiar with the important parts of our government. He'd make a fine President, or Vice-president.

So, we say put both Taft and Dewey in the White house and we'll have an American government for Americans.

Library Launches Recruiting Program

A series of short courses for library workers and prospective librarians is being conducted this summer at seven different places throughout the state by the University of Illinois library school in cooperation with the Illinois State Library. These courses, to be taught by well known instructors, will deal with the simplified basic techniques of library operation and management with particular emphasis upon the service functions of the library in meeting community needs.

Anyone who is interested in attending one of these five day courses is urged to come to the library where he may obtain a schedule of the dates and meeting places together with additional information concerning the course, and everyone is invited to come in and see the display.

Recreation Dept. Forms Junior Softball League

A four team league, known as the Class "B" League, made up of boys 15 years old and under has been organized. This League will play its games each Monday evening starting at 7:00 P.M., and the schedule will be announced shortly.

The League is sponsored by the Playground and Recreation Department.

Horse-Shoe Players Organize Club

Plans are underway to construct lighted horseshoe courts at Sunset Park for barnyard golf enthusiasts.

There will be a meeting of players at Sunset Park field house Thursday evening, June 24, at 8 p.m. with the Park and Recreation officials.

For further information call the Recreation office (H.P. 2442).

Summer Painting Class Starts Saturday, June 19

The North Shore Art League, whose studio is in the Community House in Winnetka, is sponsoring two landscape painting classes this summer.

The Saturday afternoon class starts June 19, meeting from 1:30 to 4:30, for seven Saturdays up to and including July 31. Mr. Kenneth Nack, who teaches the regular Wednesday evening and Saturday afternoon classes during the year in the League's studio, will be the instructor. Mrs. Edward J. Middleton, 903 Willow Road, Winnetka, will be the monitor of this class. Please call her for further information.

Playground Staff To Meet Friday, June 18th

A meeting for all directors, instructors and counsellors working for the Highland Park Playgrounds and Recreation Department this summer will meet at the Community Center Friday evening, June 18, at 7:30 p.m.
