"Aqua Parade of 1948"

Highly acclaimed on its first tour of the United States and Canada as the newest entertainment sensation, Buster Crabbe's "Aqua Parade of 1948" comes to the Chicago Arena for an engagement June 22 through June 29, including a Sunday matinee June 27.

Produced by Crabbe and starring the movie star and former Olympic swimming champion, "Aqua Parade" is a combined Broadway musical and water show of elaborate proportions. The setting alone is unique and breathtaking. It embraces the world's largest portable tank employing startling under-water lighting effects, a stage for the Broadway and Hollywood variety acts and a separate pool and two high towers for the thrilling high diving.

Assembled in Hollywood for the tour, "Aqua Parade" has a brilliant cast of over 100, some of them the greatest swimmers and divers in the world and others rated high in the show world. Dancing and water ensemble numbers are highlighted by the Aqua Quettes and Aqua Maids, respectively. Eddie Prinz, noted Hollywood director, mapped out and supervised the many breath-taking production numbers in "Aqua Parade." Jack's of Hollywood designed the costumes.

Besides Crabbe, "Aqua Parade" has such other outstanding stars of the aquatic world as Helen Crenkovich, champion women's high diver; Elbert Root, Frank Foster, Dick Smith, Johnny Riley, Bill Lewin, Pat Robinson, Jim Rice and Joe Peterson. Specialties on the stage spotlight the Stewart Morgan Dancers, Renald and Rudy, Mercer Brothers, Eddie Bush Trio, Wilson Sisters, Leo Richman and the "Aqua Parade" Orchestra directed by Malcolm Beelby.

"Aqua Parade of 1948" is two and one-half hours of jam-packed excitement, spectacularly staged in and on the miracle "Swim-Stage." Buster Crabbe and his world famed Olympic swimming and diving stars, gorgeous girls singing, swimming, dancing and diving, color, beauty, music, laughter and thrills all have their place in the gayest entertainment venture to come along in years.
