NATIONAL PRESS BUILDING WASHINGTON, D. C.

Love those photograph records—the new 12-inch ones that play as much as an album. Both sides provide an hour's entertainment. They'll be for sale soon.

For baby's soft, silky hair, keep a clean comb and brush. A baking soda solution makes a dandy cleanser for the little one's comb and brush—for yours, too.

Keep summer's white shoes fresh as snow with the ol' shinola, which both cleans and polishes. And remember to use sole edge dressing for those traces of white that smear the soles.

Because there are spuds and more spuds (maybe they're potatoes to you), the Dept. of Agriculture urges every American homemaker to serve them often. And to you dieters, nutritionists say it's not potatoes, but WHAT you put on them that's so fattening.

Something quick and something delicious for a company menu is made like this: scoop out tomatoes; fill with chunks of pineapple; dot with vitaminized margarine and bake 15 minutes in a moderately hot oven (375°F.).

Button, button, who's got the button? Shoes have this fall! And lots of them, so begin the search now for the old shoe buttoners.

Milk is now being frozen and flown to distant military posts. Making a hit, too. After being thawed, they say the liquid is as good as when "fresh."
