

Deep and Shallows

Autumn
The shocks of corn
Are peasant folk
Who kneel in fields of maize to pray
The God of Harvest
They invoke
To grant their needs from day to day.

Household Hints
One Highland Park benedict, in the absence of his better half, offers this comment on housewifery.
"Changing pillow cases is no trick. But holding a mattress in one's teeth while slipping on a fresh undersheet is some job."

You Started Something Yes, you did, A. Bee, when you began that saga, "A Cereal without a Grain of Truth"—to be taken, of course, with a grain of salt—about the young fellow from Chi who had a yen for farming, and followed it.
Since the basic law of the jungle is "never start something you can't finish", or words to that effect, we adjure you to get on your horse and start going. You'll have to gallop to keep ahead of some of the offerings sent in, in response to the invitation to contribute.

Here you have all the necessary ingredients for a successful story:
action, conflict, suspense . . .
and now romance. Here we go:

New Look Baking fowl, he had learned from his ma,

Always has to be dressed, so—ha, ha!—
He chose a fine chicken,
And after the pickin'
He dressed it in shorts and a bra.
—A Reader

Fowl Play
He wished for his fowls to increase,
But his fool blunders gave him
no peace;
All his young ganders
Turned out to be danders, And his ducklings were found to be deese!
—Squirrely

Ed's note: And how!
And now Highland Lassic comes through with this:

Enter Biology
Tired of lonely and bachelor life,
He announced he'd consider a wife,
But let it be known
That the choice was his own,
And he'd brook no contention or strife.

No hair-pulling would be allowed...
"Step up singly now, girls, and don't crowd" . . .
To streamline competition
And hasten fruition
The lucky one must, be, he vowed:

A lady of culture and charm,
With lovely, yet muscular, arm,
Who would mother his brood
In Madonna-like mood
And still lend a hand on the farm.

When friends averred they didn't see,
For the life of them, what it was he Could contrive to arrange
To give in exchange,
In amazement he answered: "Why ME!"

Ed's note: Watch that tongue, Lassie. Remember this is a man's world.
We still haven't heard from Marmalade, E.B., A.C.O. and others on this moot subject. Give 'em time . . . we'll wager they came through with some live ones.
—R.B.O.

The regular meeting of the Highland Park Emblem club will be held Wednesday evening, October 13, at 8 p.m. in the Elk's club-rooms. Following the business meeting, during which new candidates will be initiated, a pre-Hallowe'en party will take place. Those attending are asked to wear costume or "hard time" clothes. There will be games and cards and the decorations and refreshments will be in keeping with the holiday.

The party will be open to all members and a special invitation is extended to all wives of Elk's club members who are not, as yet, members of the Emblem club. No other guests will be admitted.

Hostesses for the evening are: Mrs. Charles Russell, chairman, Mrs. Albert Bertacchini, Mrs. Richard Mau, Mrs. Joseph Paletti, Mrs. E. Paquet, Mrs. James Golden, Mrs. William Cortesi and Mrs. George Ross.

Elm Place PTA To Swing Partners Saturday, October 9

The Elm Place P.T.A. will give a Square Dance Saturday evening, October 9th at 8:30. The party will take place at the school and all Elm Place parents are heartily invited.

This is the first of the season's P.T.A. social activities and should serve as a get acquainted and re-acquainted occasion with fun and incidentally exercise thrown in. A modest admission will be charged to defray expenses and support the P.T.A. treasury.

Friends who can organize their own "squares" of four couples ahead of time are urged to call Mr. Marsh Levy, Activities Chairman, H.P. 2785, and advise him of their wishes to complete their own square. Mr. Dud Dewey, whose talents are well known, will officiate as caller. There will be many novices so no one need hesitate for lack of Square Dancing experience. Costume is optional but the old timers claim nothing is more satisfying than high heeled cowboy boots for "stomping it out" and swinging that partner. New parents in the school are particularly urged to come.
