Highland Park Wins Over Morton In Homecoming Game

(By Will Schlichting)

Highland Park's Little Giants celebrated their homecoming with a well earned 25 to 19 victory over Morton's Mustangs in a Suburban League contest played on the Highland Park gridiron last Saturday.

It was a nip and tuck battle all the way with both teams holding the lead at various times. The first touchdown came on a lateral from Berube to Coleman who went over from the four yard line. The try for the extra point was no good to make the score 6 to 0 for the Little Giants.

Then the Mustangs got busy and did a little scoring for themselves. Late in the first quarter Morton drove to the Highland Park 1 yard line only to lose the ball on downs. A Highland Park punt was blocked in the end zone and Morton recovered for the score. They missed the try for the extra point making the score a 6 to 6 tie.

In the second period another Highland Park punt was blocked and R. Grimes pulled the ball out of the air on the Highland Park 35 yard line and ran the rest of the way for the second Morton touchdown. The try for the extra point was good and Morton led by a 13 to 6 count.

With less than one-half minute to go in the first half a pass from Dan Coleman to Tagliapietra in the end zone brought Highland Park back in the ball game. Coleman plunged over center for the extra point, the score at half time being 13 to 13.

In the third quarter Young took a lateral from Berube to score for the Blue and White from the Mustang's 20 yard marker. The try for the extra point was no good and the Little Giants went out in front by a 19 to 13 margin.

After Diedrich had taken the Highland Park kickoff on his own 10 yard line, and behind beautiful interference, taken the ball to the Highland Park 40 yard stripe the Blue and White warriors dug in and made the Mustang's punt, the ball being grounded on the one yard line.

Highland Park tried a couple of line plays and finally Tagliapietra punted to the 40 yard line where Morton obliged the Little Giants by fumbling on the second play from scrimmage and the Highland Park boys then drove to the 15 yard line where a roughing penalty put the ball on the 1 yard marker. On second down Heimerdinger plunged through the line for a touchdown. The try for the extra point was no good making the score 25 to 13 in favor of the home team.

Late in the fourth quarter Morton pushed over a touchdown via the passing route to make the final score 25 to 19 in favor of Highland Park.

The Highland Park Frosh-Soph lost a 7 to 6 game to the Morton boys in the curtain raiser. Between the halves of this game the top two teams in the Elm Place Grade School (six man team) league, intramural, put on an exhibition.

The High School band performed between the halves of the varsity game.

Sailors Vote Andy Kaiser Commodore

The North Shore Yacht club last week elected Andy Kaiser as Commodore to succeed Avery Jones in 1949. Kaiser's 17-square meter sloop "Estrellita" will become the club's flagship. About half the club's boats rest during the summer on trailers at Park avenue beach, Highland Park, while the rest, larger craft such as "Estrellita" swing at anchor in Wilmette, Great Lakes, Waukegan and other harbors.

Members unanimously accepted the outgoing Executive Committee's slate of nominees including Gunter Schwandt of Waukegan, Vice-Commodore, Hubert Kelley of Deerfield, Rear Commodore, Mrs. Edward Weeks, Secretary and Gilbert Hallawell, Treasurer. These officers will select committee chairmen and other members to complete next year's executive committee.

Meanwhile, the fall season of after-sailing festivities will continue with a Halloween costume party on Saturday, October 30 at the Park Avenue clubhouse.

We Have a New Uniform

For the first time in twenty years the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. have a completely new uniform. The identifying color is now a brighter and more becoming green.

The classic tailored uniform of covert cloth is a re-styling gift from Mainbocher, the noted fashion designer whose uniforms for the U.S. Waves made headlines a few years ago.

Mainbocher evolved three simple one-piece dresses—one for Intermediate Girl Scouts of ten to fourteen; one for Senior Scouts of high school age, and one for adults. There is also a two-piece dress suit of green wool for adults. The newly designed uniforms are now on sale in all Girl-Scout equipment shops.

Mrs. Leonard Davidow, commissioner of the Highland Park Girl Scouts, assures parents that girls who have useable outfits left over from last year can certainly use them. But new Girl-Scouts and old members replacing outgrown equipment will be wearing the new uniform.

Dedicate Stamp To Girl Scout Founder

Religious Book Week At The Library

Never before has the world had more need for the faith, hope, love and insight which can come from great religious books. Religious Book Week, October 24-31, has been set aside to call national attention to the spiritual resources which are available to us today and to remind us that peace of mind may be found within their pages.

The Highland Park Public Library offers the following selections chosen by a committee of five eminent theologians from an annual list of outstanding religious books:

Farmer, H. H. God and Men Emphasizes the Christian view of life.

Hamilton, Edith. Witness to the Truth.

A well-known classical scholar seeks to rediscover the Christ. Lewis, C. S. Miracles

The popular Oxford scholar presents an argument for a supernaturalist interpretation of the world.

Maritain, Jacques. The Person and the Common Good

A brief illuminating discussion of the relations of persons and society.

Maus, C. P. The World's Great Madonnas.

Pictures, poetry, music and stories center in the life of the Madonna and Her Son.

Papini, Giovanni. The Letters of Pope Celestine VI to All Mankind.

Letters of an imaginary prelate who laments the ills of the human family and calls for action in a desperate world.

Seaver, George. Albert Schweitzer, the Man and His Mind.

A careful biography of the great missionary and scholar.

Susan B. Anthony and Clara Barton.

Born in Savannah, Georgia, in 1860, her early years spent in the tense atmosphere of the Civil War, Mrs. Low lived a romantic and adventurous life, traveling extensively and making many friends. Married in 1886, she went to England to live, making many trips back to her native country. When widowed she found a new interest in the Scouting movement introduced by Sir Robert Baden-Powell in 1908. The remainder of her life was devoted to the Girl Scout movement, and she lived to see it become part of a great international force. Now 36 years old, the Girl Scouts of U.S.A. form the largest organization of its kind for girls in the world, with total membership of 1,409,600, and troops in 10,000 communities.

Buried in 1927 in her Scout uniform, Mrs. Low left a will which reads in part: "I trust I have left no enmities and I leave and bequeath to my family my friendship, especially my beloved Girl Scouts."

to lift glasses, dress myself, use a knife and fork, drive, light a cigaret, and do the myriad of little things which once had passed as daily routine. It was Charlie McConegal, a handless veteran of the first World War, who gave me most of my lessons. Thanks to him, I was able to make "The Diary of a Sergeant" for the United States Signal Corps, the story of the rehabilitation of a handless GI and how he conquered this disability. Movie Director William Wyler and author Robert E. Sherwood saw this short, told producer Samuel Coldwyn about it, and my good luck started.

"After the film won the hearts of America, I began to visit veterans' hospitals and talked with hundreds of men, some maimed lightly, others unable ever to talk, walk, see or hear again because of their war injuries.

"I was impressed by the large number of Negro, Jewish and Catholic patients in these hospitals. Here were quiet sanctuaries where nobody raised the ugly question:

"Boy, is your skin white or black? 'Are you Jewish or 100 percent Anglo-Saxon, native American?' 'If you're a Catholic, you're suspect—the pope wants to run this country, don't he?'"

"The fellows in the hospitals felt the social unrest in the outside world. It was the judging of a man on his individual merits that impressed me—Why, I asked myself, couldn't Americans on the outside learn to judge a man on his own merits and shortcomings, rather than poke into his ancestry, race and religious beliefs?"
