New Books In Library
"Title to Happiness" by Adele De Leeuw, seems to be a very stimulating book. After graduating from college Kathy Martin is excited at the prospect of getting a job. Her first job was in a real estate office in the small town in which she lived.
Starting as a secretary and gradually becoming a salesman, Kathy finds satisfaction in the help she can give people. Not only success but romance come to Kathy as she assumes executive responsibility. Don't miss reading "Title to Happiness."
A thrilling story of the first steamboat voyage from Pittsburgh to New Orleans is "Pioneer Pilot" by Ed W. Parks. Rivermen jeered and said it couldn't be done. How could they get over the falls of the Ohio? How could they navigate through the ever-changing channels of the Mississippi?
In "Pioneer Pilot" 16-year-old Donald Menzies learns to become a river pilot, Donald loved learning all the angles.
Trouble develops with Indians and earthquakes, the latter changing the course of the steamboat.
"Pioneer Pilot" is a thrilling adventure and voyage for any reader.

Students Drive Busses In North Carolina
Well, kids, we have a lot to learn from the high school students in North Carolina. The students drive the busses to school themselves and their accident rate is lower than that of adult drivers.
North Carolina has 5,242 school busses in operation, and eighty-three per cent of the busses are driven by high school students 16 to 19 years old.
School transportation is big business these days. The student drivers in North Carolina handle about $15,000,000 worth of state property. Each student driver is paid a salary of $20 each month.
Even the fair sex gets in on the idea, since many of the drivers are girls.
A substitute goes along with the regular driver in case of emergency.
What's wrong with this sentence: "Mom, hurry up with my spinach so I can get to studying my lesson."

what's COOKING
Paul F. Clark has said, "We Americans, who total one-sixteenth of the population of the world, produce seven-sixteenths of the world's goods." We own 48 per cent of the world's electric power, 50 per cent of its radios, 55 per cent of its telephones, 60 per cent of its steel capacity, 64 per cent of its life insurance policies, 87 per cent of its automobiles, and 94 per cent of its modern bathtubs.
We are thankful that we are so fortunate as to live in the United States. We are thankful, too, because most of our countrymen still believe in private enterprise, the system of business that helped to make possible our many living comforts.
We are thankful this Thanksgiving Day.
