NANCY NEREIM, A BRIDE

Miss Nancy Nereim, daughter of the Roy O. Nereims of 247 Central avenue, became the bride of Donald Ashton Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merton Moore of Seattle, Washington, on Saturday, November 12, at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the Presbyterian church. The Rev. Dr. William A. Young heard the exchange of nuptial vows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of champagne colored taffeta made with long sleeves and a hoop skirt which ended in a long train. The buttons all the way up the back of the dress held the double Peter Pan collar up in back. She wore a fingertip veil the same shade as her gown, caught to a circle head-dress. Her flowers were white roses and white orchids.

Mrs. Stuart Hoadley (Shirley Wing) attended as matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert E. Nereim, sister-in-law of the bride, Miss Joan Fraible and Miss Jean Fridell. With their gowns of steel blue satin fashioned with roll collars, plunging necklines, cap sleeves and slash pockets, they wore crowns of white chrysanthemums, matching the bouquets they carried.

Best man was Robert Nereim, brother of the bride, and the ushers were Bertram R. Beers of Highland Park, Frederick M. Hodgdon of Skokie and Ray Stymacks of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

The bride's mother chose a gown of brown satin with a blue brocade pattern, complemented by a brown velvet hat. Her corsage was of brown orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a red iridescent gown of taffeta and matching hat. Her corsage was of green orchids.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to Puget Sound, Mr. Moore and his bride will reside in California.

Miss Virginia (Bunny) Knox, a senior at Western College, Oxford, Ohio, played the leading role in an all-senior production, "A Feather in Your Cap," presented in Presser Auditorium on November 5.

The production was an entirely original musical, featuring a full program of music, dancing, and comedy. The members of the class of 1950, in portraying what they believe to be the basis of Western life, centered their production around a bewildered, confused freshman, as played by Miss Knox.

Miss Knox is majoring in the department of theater and has appeared in many theater productions in the past three years. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Knox, 2296 Lakeside Pl. Mr. and Mrs. Knox were in Oxford for the week-end to see the production.
