A Parley WILL Avert War . . .

Most of the time we agree with Col. McCormick and his well-edited Tribune . . .

But when the Colonel says another war can't be averted by a Truman-Stalin conference because "no statesman ever keeps his word", we disagree.

A parley will avert a war.

Wars don't just happen.

Fires of wars smoulder first.

Peace parleys can douse hidden flames fast if those who sit at peace conference tables really want peace—peace at almost any price!

Like other chip-carrying "authorities" in the spotlight today, Col. McCormick loudly boasts "we can lick everyone, including the Russians."

Now it's mighty fine to have such confidence.

Confidence leads to strength—mentally as well as militaristically.

But wars are never really "won".

They're always lost by both sides.

Peace Brings Happiness . . .

Peace, on the other hand, is enjoyed by all.

Peace brings constructive thinking and planning.

Peace brings happiness.

Happiness leads to a better life.

And a better, happier life, in my opinion, is everyone's goal.

Truman and Stalin should meet.

Right now.

We don't care where.

If Stalin doesn't want to come to Washington, well let's go to Moscow.

Let's go anywhere, anytime to make peace.

Peace is a 24-hour-a-day job.

Truman's advisers, in our opinion, are stupid to insist on Stalin coming to Washington.

What difference does it make where the "big boys" meet?

Build A Peace Now . . .

They should meet. That's for certain. And they should think peace, talk peace, believe in peace, construct a peace and live by their finer ideals.

Truman can enhance his slipping position, politically, far faster by arranging a Stalin Parley than he can by uttering greetings to whistle-stop crowds while touring the nation trying to beat down men like Taft, who unquestionably has the nation's interests first in his thinking.

Parley And Peace . . .

Col. McCormick is wrong.

The Tribune is wrong.

Truman and his advisers are wrong.

A parley will bring peace—or at least get the world to thinking PEACE instead of how many hydrogen—hell—bombs are needed to return civilization back to God!

Remove all war talk at once, we say.

Let's get down to the peace-making problem at once.

The United Nations move too slowly.

We need immediate action.

Let's have that parley at once.

Peace can't come too fast for the peoples of the world!

AVC Boosts Hoover Reform of Vet Aid

Reform won't hurt the Veterans Administration, in the opinion of one North Shore ex-GI group.

Congressman Ralph Church this week heard praise for the Hoover report's sweeping aims of reorganization and economy for veteran aid, in a message from American Veterans Committee chairman Linas Brown, Winnetka. Brown ripped the American Legion's fight to defeat Hoover measures as "a patronage grab" by the rival vet group.

"North Shore citizens want the economies promised by enactment of Hoover Commission recommendations," Brown said. "North Shore veterans will benefit by increased efficiency in the handling of their affairs. The only losers will be professional veteran lobbyists."

Pooling of government hospital facilities, the AVC chapter head declared, is a sample of reform which can offer big savings in management, together with wider facilities for vets' care.

"The Hoover Commission has scored an outstanding accomplishment of public service," Brown added. "Legislation based on the Hoover report deserves public support, and if necessary public sacrifice. The last ones to complain should be veterans who will actually benefit by streamlined service, with less opportunity for manipulation by self-interested cliques."

The AVC letter to Congressman Church was released here by Richard Ginzburger, Winnetka, chairman. Robert F. Walker, Jr., Highland Park is a member of the North Shore AVC chapter's program committee.

Hour of Sharing Will Be Observed Next Sunday Morning

When the eleven o'clock hour comes next Sunday morning the Protestant Churches of our vicinity will be observing the "One Great Hour of Sharing." In fact, the outstanding symbol of this campaign is the picture of a church steeple with a clock on which the hands indicate the hour of eleven. This hour will bring to a climax in over 100,000 churches of the United States the campaign to acquaint members and friends of these congregations with the desperate needs of people in Europe and Asia.

For weeks the "One Great Hour of Sharing" has been supported by radio transcriptions and network programs, by extensive newspaper promotion, by television and film strips, and by special literature. Christians cannot let children die because of lack of food, and let refugees go shelterless because no homes are provided. Yes, a new relief problem confronts them in 1950—at least it is new to most Americans. It is the refugee problem—with 12,000,000 refugees in Germany, 450,000 in Greece, 700,000 in the Palestine areas, and some 5,000,000 in Korea. There are millions more in China. Here is a new challenge which Christians must help meet.

In a recent meeting of the Ministers of Highland Park and Highwood with Rev. Lester H. Laubenstein presiding, and Rev. Albert G. Masser as secretary, the Association voted to cooperate in the observance of this momentous hour of "Sharing." Local people are being urged to attend the churches of their choice, and be prepared to bring their offerings for this worthy project to help alleviate the misery in many gruesome situations. The date is Sunday, March 12, and the hour is eleven in the morning. Offerings will be channeled through denominational agencies to aid in the all year round program of overseas relief.

Those who do not have any church relationships, and would like to support this great cause of world relief, may send their contributions directly to Church World Service, 214 E. 21st street, New York, 10, N. Y.

Will you be in church next Sunday morning? Will you have your gift for the good of the destitute?
