

Fishing Exhibit At Public Library April 29

An invitation to "Know your Game Fish and Birds" is currently being extended all sportsmen by the Highland Park Public Library where a series of newly purchased fishing maps are now on display.

All in color, the maps are the work of designer Joe Godfrey, Jr., and Herb Chidley, artist.

One map, "Let's Go Fishing," reproduces 46 varieties of fresh and salt water game fish in their natural colors plus a fish-eye view of the North American continent.

"Big Game Fish," a companion map drawn on a larger scale, shows an additional ten varieties of North American fish; a more detailed view of the fishing waters on the Atlantic, Pacific, and Gulf Coasts, and a listing of the world's record catches of both fresh and salt water game fish.

Supplementing the colorful continental maps are a guide to the local Northern Illinois and Wisconsin lake region, and a copy of the State of Illinois Fish and Game Laws digest. Anglers will take special note of the panel showing 53 types of artificial flies.

North American game birds are the subject of two additional maps, a careful study of which will reveal at least 46 varieties of quail, duck, partridge, and pheasant among other birds.

Recent additions to the popular sports section of the library include Trueblood's, "The Angler's Handbook," Bert Clavin's "Blazed Trails for Anglers, Trout Fishing by Daniel Holland, and Arthur Carhart's "Fresh Water Fishing. On the lighter side is Beatrice Cook's "Till Fish Us Do Part, the confessions of a Fisherman's Wife.

Wheelmen Plan Sunday Outing At Petrifed Springs

On Sunday, May 21, at 9:55 a.m., around thirty people from this town will gather at the Northwestern station to board a special train for Kenosha. Their bikes will accompany them, in the baggage car, for they plan to take a bicycle trip to Petrifed Springs from Kenosha. Dinner, however, will come first.

Probably the group will number between three and four hundred, in all, for many Chicagoans will board the train from their city. Sounds like fun.

The bike hikers will return Sunday evening. The trip is sponsored by the League of American Wheelmen.

Both local teams have won two and lost one in the Suburban league, and five and one in overall competition. The only defeat thus far came at the hands of Oak Park, one of the league's three top teams.

This week, Highland Park faces the other powerhouses of the league, Evanston and New Trier, and Coach John Broming thinks his boys have a good chance of defeating these teams.

Little Giant Baseball Team Continues Losing Ways; Drop Three More

Failure to hit in the clutches cost the Highland Park high school baseball team three ball games this past week.

The local boys took it on the chin in a double header with the Morton team by scores of 5 to 3 and 4 to 2 last Saturday in Suburban league games and then on Tuesday, May 9 they handed the New Trier boys a 3 to 0 ball game in extra innings.

Whether the boys seem sorry for the football team and basketball squad or not is a question to be answered by themselves only. Or, is it because they do not have the necessary competitive spirit to stay along with the other teams in the league? They should have been right up there scrapping for second or third in the Suburban league, but what happens, they are right down there next to Waukegan in the bottom of the heap.

Against New Trier they had two men on base and no outs and failed to score a run. Then again in the fourth inning they had a good chance to score but fanned the air or just watched the ball go by for outs.

Bob Fiochi held the New Trier team hitless until the seventh inning and the visitors tagged him for one hit in each the sixth and seventh and bunched three hits together in the eighth to score three runs and win the ball game 3 to 0.

The Little Giants got four hits for themselves but they went for naught as the baserunners were stranded by either strike outs or little fly balls to the infield.

Well maybe the boys can snap out of it this Saturday as they take on the strong Oak Park outfit in a double header on the local field. It certainly is about time some team does a little winning at the high school.

The tennis team seems to be the only one along with the surprising swimming team that can do anything against good competition.

ference baseball playoffs and track and field meet on Bradley field.

Final event on the program is scheduled for 8:15 in the Fieldhouse when Bradley will present its Cavalcade of Music. High school choirs and choruses will sing individually and in several group numbers.

Combined with the Campus Day activity is Bradley's second annual Guidance Clinic, sponsored by the county's Social and Education. Designed especially for high school administrators, teachers and counselors, it will feature short talks and round-table discussions on guidance problems.

Frosh-Soph Cindermen Crush Maine 65 to 39

By Bill Kiddle Paced by the double victories of Pete Walker, Walter Benson, and Bob George, Highland Park's frosh-soph high school track team routed Maine's underclassmen on their own field recently.

Highland Park got off to a terrific start, by blanking Maine in the first event, the 120-yard high hurdles, as George, Wurm and Kenry teamed up to tie down all three places. A few events later, Walker, Glick, and Weinfield repeated the same trick in the 220-yard dash.

High point man for the day was "Big Bob" George with 13, as he won the high jump, the 120-yard high hurdles, and placed second in the discus. Other notable performances came as freshman Pete "Scotty" Walker copped both the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and Walter Benson, returning from the sick list, won the shot put and discus.

Frosh-Soph Nine In Opening Tilts

By Bill Kiddle In the opening baseball game on Tuesday against Oak Park, Turkey, of the Little Giants, started on the hill for the high school team, but was chased to the showers by an explosion in the first inning.

Renzo Marchietti relieved Turki and went on to pitch 6 innings of perfect ball, but the damage was already done, and the Blue and White could push across only a single tally as they fell in defeat 3 to 1.

In a freshman game played at the same time, Lawrence Servi pitched our "freshies" to a 2 to 2 deadlock with Oak Park.

On Friday, minus the services of mound ace, Renzo Marchietti, the Blue and White were held to a 2 to 2 stand off by Evanston's scrappy puppies in a game that was called at the end of 7 innings because of darkness.

Dominic Turki started on the hill for the locals and went all the way, giving up only 3 hits.

In commenting on the play of the team, Coach Harold Henderson says, he is very proud of the play of the boys so far, and above all the fine hurling of Renzo Marchietti. Renzo has pitched, so far this season, in two games and has hurled 9 consecutive innings of hitless ball. Another bright spot on the team is the hitting of Buddy Bock, who has hit safely 6 times in 6 trips to the plate for a perfect batting average.

The frosh-soph's next league game will be played on the home diamond, May 12 as they take on Waukegan's "Bulldogs".

Choral Drama To Highlight Meeting Of Presbyterian Women

The Women's Association of the Highland Pk. Presbyterian Church will hold the regular all-day meeting on Thursday, May 18th.

At ten A.M. members will gather to sew and make surgical dressings for the Highland Park Hospital, and at eleven o'clock Mrs. Robert Olmsted's group will be ready with a sale of home baked goods.

Rev. Edward Greenfield will be the speaker at the twelve o'clock chancel service of worship.

Luncheon will be served by Mrs. Warren Wilner's group at twelve-thirty, followed by a business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Charles Bletsch, president of the Association.

At two P. M., Mrs. Kenneth Lacy, program chairman, will introduce "Living Hymns", a choral drama by Edith H. Willis and Edith Ellsworth, presenting the best loved hymns of the ages; the men and women who wrote them, and the hymns they wrote.

The historical narrative will be read by Rev. Edward Greenfield and Mrs. Kenneth Lacy, supplemented by a group of four choral voices: Madeline Vance, Helen Guy Finlay, Gordon Holland and William Gooch. Three living pictures will be staged, depicting the inspirational influence of the hymn on daily living.

Solo parts will be sung by Karen Reinking, daughter of Mrs. B. F. Reinking who is directing the program, and by Mr. Eugene R. Schmidt of Harvard, Ill. Mrs. Herman Ritow will play the piano accompaniments and background music. Many of the familiar old hymns with which the play deals, call for audience participation, and it is hoped that a large and enthusiastic audience will enjoy recalling and singing again the beautiful words and music of Living Hymns.

Tuesday, May 23rd, is the date set for the drive and tea parties for the ladies of the Presbyterian Home. Mrs. Roger Baker and her committee are making plans, and detailed information will be given at the luncheon meeting.
