Galahad Sense

With diplomacy the measure, Aloysius Galahad,
As judge of blonde and Titian beauties,
A color choice among his duties,
To pacify the anxious cuties,
Said his preference was plaid.

Greeting

As the sun came over the garden
To the flowers bathed in dew
He spoke so very softly,
"Good Morning, and how do you do?"

He touched each tiny blossom
With his warm life-giving ray.
"Hope you will be very happy
And have a lovely day."
The flowers nodded gently;
It seems I heard them say,
"Good Morning, Merry Sunshine;
May you have a pretty day."

Look Who's Here!

Congratulate the Zoo's chief vet—
A son is born to Juliet!
His coat is black, his legs are strong,
His trunk is over one foot long;
His eyes are blue, his weight would seem . . . oh,
Most three hundred pounds. Name?
Remo.
The new arrival has, we're told,
A sister, Roma, two years old.

Events almost became a flop
When Remo's mamma blew her top,
And, with a fury hard to hide,
Tried to commit infanticide.
The keepers had a bit of work
To ward her off with prong and fork.

Now who can guess what fevered train
Of thought raced through that massive brain?

The link that had to come

The two main roads to the solution of life's problems, divergent though they may have seemed to be, are the way of Science and the way of Religion.

These two paths converge in Christian Science. Today the rational thinker finds logic, supported by proof, in the religious thinker's deep conviction of a primal cause, or intelligence, called God.

Science and religion can now agree, for through the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, the actual Science of Christianity has been revealed.

This great book shows, through reason and revelation, the solution to problems of health, supply, or of any other kind. It may be read or obtained at all Christian Science Reading Rooms. The coupon is also for your use.
