Notes About Town Jotted Down

En Route To New York

Aboard the 20th Century Limited:—

Thanks to Harry B. Spurrier, likeable public relations representative of the New York Central System, and his polite and pleasant secretary, Ruth Blanchard, we're on our way to New York on America's finest train—the 20th Century Limited. . . .

Next week we'd like to tell you a bit about this fine but hasty trip. . . .

Now, some notes about our town and a bit of this and that from here and there. . . .

Thanks, "Red"! . . .

Needing a conservative, navy blue suit for a New York speech, we called good friend "Red" Fell to see if he had one in stock.

He did.

We tried it on.

It fit—except for some slight alterations which "Red" and his able staff handled in double quick time. . . . and the suit was ready almost overnight.

That's what I call SERVICE.

And that's what Highland Park merchants sincerely give their customers. . . .

Random Notes

The Frank Higgins' are due in town soon . . . and the Dick Higgins' surely are looking forward to seeing them . . . and to proudly showing their handsome new son, William, better known as "Bill" . . .

"Hank" Wilder and his new bride will be visiting Highland Park any day now. . . .

Pretty Peggy Gordon tells us a group of loyal Tenthouse Theater enthusiasts are sponsoring an ad in the Baton Rouge papers welcoming Highland Park stars to that town and telling the southerners about the group's talent.

Those who want to contribute to the promotion should see Peggy Gordon. . . .

That's an interesting story about the Robert Cushman home in the October issue of Better Homes & Gardens.

Article shows how the Cushmans cleverly found more storage and working space—something all of us need in our homes. . . .

TV Notes. . . .

—Walt Durbahn's TV show is still among the best. I like his casual approach . . . and his ability to teach in a most effective manner.

Daye Garroway, who needs no publicity, still has the most original variety show. . . .

Read what Larry Wolters, "Deac" Wolters' brother, writes in his regular radio-TV column in the Tribune.

He's usually right . . . and his criticisms are fair, accurate, hard hitting. . . .

As a sign-off comment on TV, I, for one, sincerely believe TV producers should put their programs on a higher level.

Some shows coming into the nation's homes border on the vulgar. . . .

Parting Thought

"Be patient," says an old proverb, "and you shall have patient children."

Highwood Legion Auxiliary Installs New Officers

Highwood Unit No. 501, American Legion auxiliary installed new officers at its last meeting, Monday, September 25th, with Mrs. Charles Prizer of Lake Bluff, 10th District Director and Mrs. Fred Carney, of Libertyville, 10th District Alternate Director, as installing officers. The unit officers inducted were: President, Mrs. Arthur Cervetti; first vice president, Mrs. Wm. Christensen, Second vice president, Mrs. James Minorini; Historian, Mrs. C. M. Jacobson; Chaplain, Mrs. Ernest Ayers; Treasurer, Mrs. Ray Suzzi; Secretary, Mrs. Eggert Carlsen; Sgt. at arms, Mrs. Roland Stanley.

Following the installation Mrs. Cervetti gave her appointments for the ensuing year, which are as follows: Americanism, Mrs. Anna Bell; Auxiliary Loan Fund, Mrs. Bruno Bertucci; Child Welfare, Mrs. R. Clyde Cameron; Community Service, Mrs. C. M. Jacobson and Mrs. Anna Bell; Education of War Orphans, Mrs. R. Clyde Cameron; Finance, Mrs. Nella Coppi, Mrs. Wm. Christensen and Mrs. Ray Newton; Gold Star, Mrs. Ernest Ayers; Girl's State, Mrs. John Connors; Legislative, Mrs. David Perry; Membership, Mrs. Wm. Christensen and Mrs. David Perry; Members Laison, Mrs. Roland Stanley; Music, Mrs. Charles Anderson; National Security and Pan American, Mrs. LaVerne Cioni; Parliamentarian, Publicity, Poppy and Veteran's Craft, Mrs. Ray Suzzi; Radio, Mrs. John Peterson; Rehabilitation, Mrs. Eggert Carlsen, and Mrs. James Minorini; Unit Activity, Mrs. Wm. Christensen, Mrs. James Minorini, and Mrs. David Perry; and Color bearer, Mrs. Mary East.

Gifts of appreciation were presented to the installing officers, and a going away gift was presented to Mrs. Matt Maiman, who is moving to Florida in October.

A few words of greetings were given by both Mrs. Prizer and Mrs. Carney. Mrs. Eggert Carlsen gave an annual report on rehabilitation, showing that the unit had a very busy year at Downey, entertaining the veterans at a birthday party, Christmas party, party and picnic for the women patients. Funds raised from the Poppy day sales are used for the expense on these entertainments.

A social hour and refreshments followed the meeting. Mrs. Christensen and Mrs. James Minorini headed the refreshments.

The next regular business meeting will be held Monday, October 9th at the Legion home, 220 Green Bay road, Highwood at 8:00 p.m.

Dr. Teresita Scelba Pleasantly Impressed By American Women

Mrs. Marc Law of Northbrook, former president of the Highland Park League of Women Voters, has as her guest this week Dr. Teresita Scelba, president of the Italian branch of the International Alliance of Women, an organization founded by the League. Dr. Scelba comes to this country as the guest of the State department, under provision of the Smith-Mundt Act, which provides persons to promote democratic ideas.

Dr. Scelba is director of a municipal clinic in Rome for the prevention of tuberculosis, and secretary of the Italian National Union against Illiteracy. She is interested in American women, their ways of living and their organizations.

According to Dr. Scelba, the American movies give a completely erroneous impression of American women, and she was amazed to find them so domestic, natural and home loving.

Build A World Law Vets Urge Nominees

Hailing UN police action in Korea as "a great step toward international government for peace," a group of war veterans this week called on North Shore candidates for Congress in fall elections "to pledge a fight for stronger world law as a guardian of democracy."

North Shore chapter of American Veterans Committee asked platform statements of their peace policies from Mrs. Ralph Church, Republican nominee to succeed her late husband, and Thomas F. Dolan, Democratic nominee for the 13th Congressional District seat, both residents of Evanston. The AVC chapter asked similar information of senatorial candidates Scott Lucas, Democratic incumbent, and Everett Dirksen, Republican challenger.

"The most vital job awaiting you in Congress," AVC's executive committee told the candidates, "is to set America's true goal in world affairs."

A goal worth fighting for, the vets suggested, is an enforceable world peace. They urged the candidates that the United States, as leader of the democracies, should offer to join other nations under a democratic world-wide constitution.

"Our enemies control 40 per cent of the world's population, and aim to establish a world tyranny," the AVC explained in letters to the nominees. "Democratic nations must meet the threat to their existence by offering to the world some workable form of democracy." The veterans said that lack of real peace machinery in the United Nations will "perpetuate crushing taxes, cost us our civil liberties, and lead to a series of world wars, each more devastating than the last."

In a review of veterans organizations' policies, the candidates were told that AVC and AmVets, both World War II ex-GI groups, favor development of world law and government. Of older vet groups, the American Legion's policy was cited as favoring a stronger UN, while the VFW is opposed to world governmental organization.

The North Shore Chapter of AVC is one of nearly 50 sponsors of various North Shore committees for the study of paths to peace.

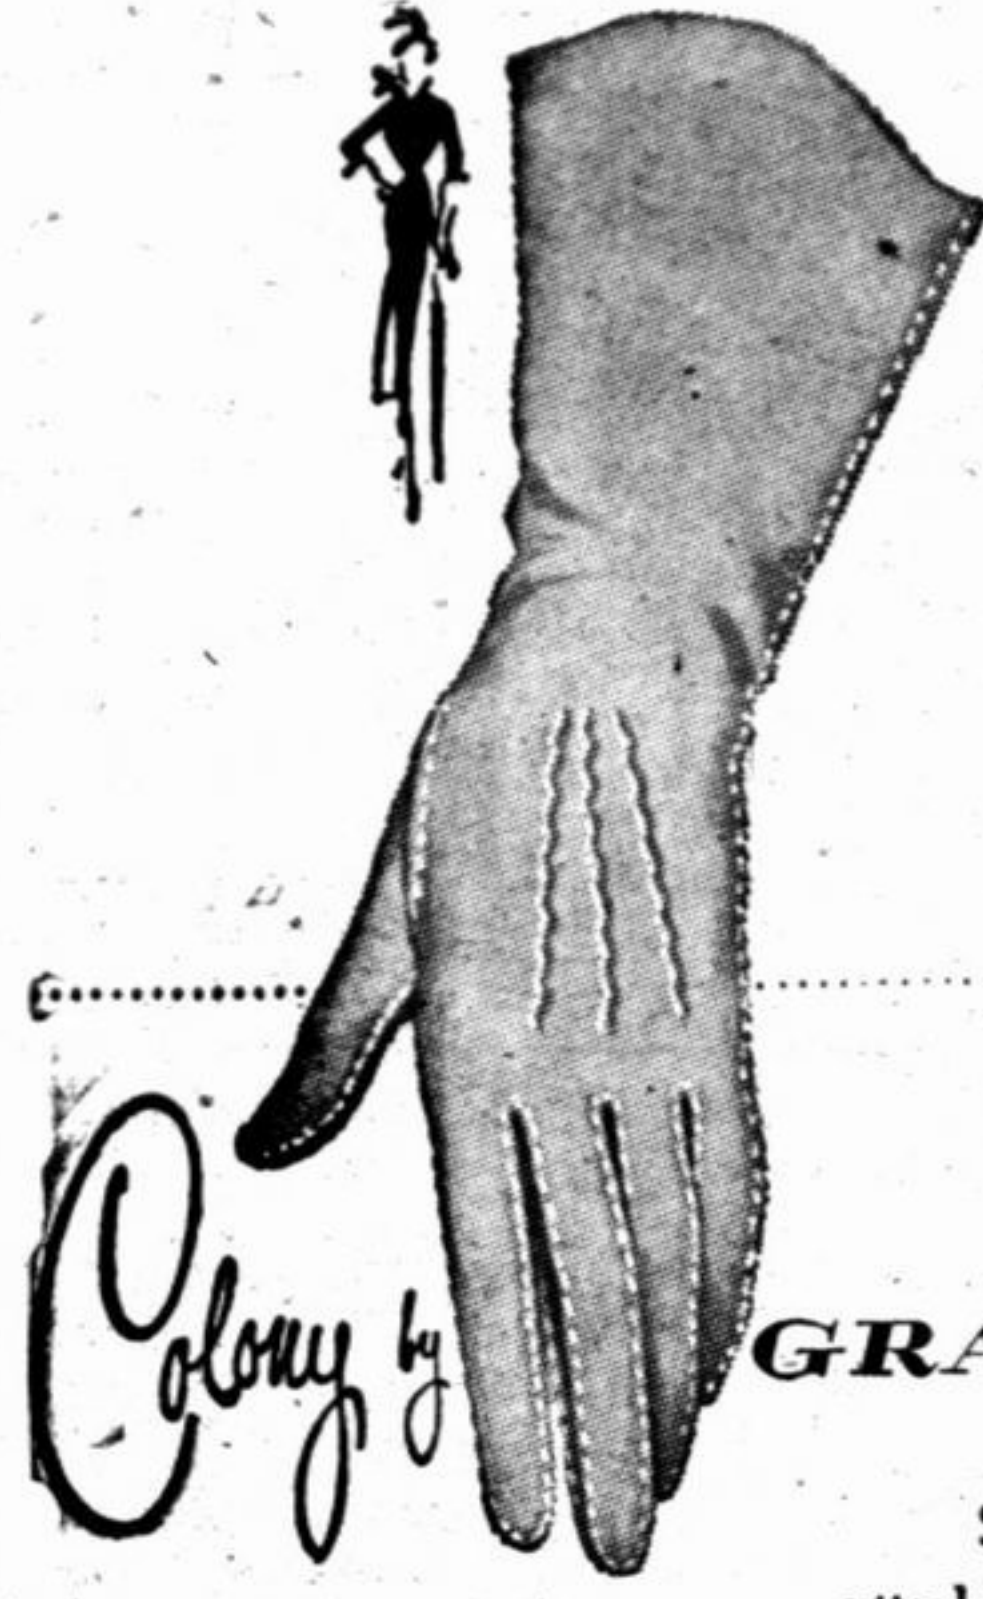

Its executive committee includes Arthur Baldauf, Jr., Everett L. Millard, and Harry A. Sellery, Jr., Highland Park.
