So This Is New York! . . .

NEW YORK CITY, N. Y.—

Exactly at 9:30 A. M. New York time, America's No. 1 train, the 20th Century Limited, pulled into Grand Central Station. . . .

Minutes later we raced for a cab . . . found one . . . and sped to the Gotham Hotel, 5th and 55th.

"The Gotham was our New York headquarters.

Suburbanites that we are, we spent only one hour, or so, in the big city that first day . . . then we left for White Plains . . . a suburb comparable in size, but not in quality, to our Evanston. . . .

En route to White Plains we bought the New York Post and learned that the Sister Kenny Foundation was having a big benefit in the Paramount Theater.

Stars like Eddie Cantor, Frank Sinatra, Burt Parks, Sid Caesar and many others would be on stage giving generously of their time for this mighty worthy cause. . . .

Calls Headquarters . . .
Shortly after arriving in White Plains, this PRESS correspondent was in a phone booth talking to courteous Mr. Peter U. Gazzola, Public Relations Director of the Foundation. I told Mr. Gazzola how we'd like to cover the benefit.

"You can pick up two press tickets at my office this afternoon," Mr. Gazzola responded.

And, sure enough, the tickets were there . . . and we had front row aisle seats . . . and we saw and heard more talent in the following two hours than we've seen in a lifetime. . . .

Contributions made that night will help scores of people across the nation recover from polio. . . .

It was a worthy event . . . and thoroughly enjoyed by all. . . .

Sees New York From A Cab . . .
Although my wife and I saw New York as one should see it, the writer saw it from a taxi cab speeding to and from Direct Mail Convention Headquarters at the Roosevelt Hotel. . . .

New York is a busy town, a town of speeding cabs, smartly dressed men and women, courteous cabs, handsome shops, good eating places, and a town full of celebrities. . . .

Walking down 55th Street one afternoon we saw Henry Ford, Georgia Carroll, Bill Holden and bride Brenda Marshall, Ken Murray and Mindy Carson. . . .

This Is New York . . .
I suppose taxi cabs drivers in New York are about the best informed "men on the street" . . . and so I chatted with them to and from my destinations.

Here, in essence, were their comments:

"Not all New York cops are crooks."

"Sure the Yanks will win! Who else?"

"Stassen and Stalin—hope they get together."

"Harry should be in the White House instead of out crazing!"

"You can't stop those Marine guys once they get rolling."

"Mac is doing a swell job."

"Now they won't be bombing New York!"

So Long, New York! . . .
Yes it was a short visit—just 56 hours.

But it was good to see the big city.

There's optimism there . . . and the businessmen we chatted with see a bright future. . . .

Rev. Nelson Stants Student Assistant Pastor At Bethany Church

Rev. Nelson E. Stants, a Junior at the Evangelical Theological Seminary at Naperville, has begun his work at Bethany Evangelical United Brethren Church in the Capacity of Student Assistant Pastor. In a few weeks he has befriended many people of the parish, and promises to be of distinct help in the service the congregation continues to render.

The promising theologian is a native of Pennsylvania in the Pittsburgh area. Prior to his college career at North Central he worked in a steel mill for three years, and also on the famous "Pennsylvania Turnpike" near which he lived. In April 1943 he entered the United States Air Force and was discharged in the summer of 1946. It was while he spent his time in navigation and trouble-shooting radio and radar equipment that he made his decision for the Christian ministry.

In addition to his school work he provides for his wife and four year old son by serving as a Clerk-Carrier at the Naperville Post Office. His major work at Bethany will be with the Youth Fellowship and it can be readily predicted that the Rev. Mr. Stants with his interesting background and a likeable personality will prove to be a real leader.
