Learn Creative Writing At The "Y"

Is one of the big secrets of your life the desire to know how to become a creative writer? If so, here's your opportunity to join a class at the Y.W.C.A. which began Wednesday, April 11, at 9:30 a. m. The course includes ten lessons.
Mr. Fredrick N. Litten will instruct these classes. He is a well known critic in the art of writing and has sold a short story each month and a novel every three months for the last ten years. He will teach you the "know how" in the art of writing a story.
Call the Y.W.C.A. for further information.

OBITUARIES

Brown
Rites were held in Chicago Monday morning, for Bernard Brown and his son Stanton, 13, of 2432 Deere Park drive, who were the victims of an accident near Key West, Fla., when their car crashed into an abutment on Ocean highway. They were visiting Mrs. Brown's parents, the Alex Goldblatts, in Miami Beach, Fla.
Mr. Brown, 42, an alumnus of Northwestern university law school, was a director, vice president and assistant secretary of Goldblatt Brothers, Inc., Chicago. He was also a trustee of the Nathan Goldblatt Cancer Research fund and the Goldblatt Brothers foundation.
Surviving are his wife; a daughter, Carol Rita, 9; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mandel N. Brown, and a sister, Mrs. Dina Greenbaum.

Wickham
Last rites were held on Monday, April 9, at the Kelley-Spalding chapel for Everett Wickham, 48, of 515 Laurel avenue, who passed away at the Highland Park hospital on Saturday, April 7, after a month's illness. Rev. H. K. Platzer read the service.
Born December 3, 1902 in Alden, Illinois, he was the proprietor of a Refrigerator service in Highland Park.
He is survived by his wife, Hazel M., one son, Robert of California and three daughters, Nancy, Bobbie Sue and Billie.
Interment was made in North Shore Garden of Memories.

Casel
Funeral services were held Saturday, April 7 at the St. Johns Evangelical and Reformed church for Mrs. Selma Minnie Casel, 69, who passed away at her home at 614 Glenview avenue on Friday, April 6, following a long illness.
She was born July 10, 1881 in Chicago, and came to Highland Park to live 10 years ago. She was preceded in death by her husband, Henry, in 1941.
She was a member of the Electa chapter of the Eastern Star in Peoria, Illinois, and of the Woman's Guild of St. Johns church in Highland Park.
Surviving are one son, Carl, a granddaughter, Louise, of Highland Park, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Radke of Chicago.
Interment was in Acacia Park, Chicago.

Moras
Mrs. Anna Stamm Moras, 82, wife of Dr. Edmond R. Moras, passed away at her home at 520 N. Sheridan road on Tuesday, April 10. Born in Chicago on December 17, 1868, she had been a Highland Park resident for the past 42 years.
Besides her husband, Mrs. Moras is survived by a son, Karl of Libertyville, an attorney in Waukegan, and a granddaughter, Karla. Services to-day will be private.
