APPROACHING WEDDING

The Presbyterian church will be the scene of the wedding of Miss Shirley Mae Brown and William Benedict Cope on Saturday, July 7.

Mrs. Leonard Johnson, sister of the bride-to-be, will be matron of honor and Miss Mary Anderson, cousin of Miss Brown, and Mrs. Frank McDonald, both of Deerfield, will attend as bridesmaids.

Thomas Johnson of Glenview will serve as best man and Douglas Brown of Pittsburgh, Pa.; another brother of the bride, and Wilder Morrison of Wheeling, will usher.

A reception at the Highland Park Woman's club will follow the ceremony.

Mr. Cope and his bride will have a two weeks' northern honeymoon. When they return they will reside on Ridgewood drive.

Among the parties honoring the bride-to-be will be a personal shower to-night (Thursday) at which Mrs. Fred Bishop and Mrs. Leonard Johnson will be co-hostesses. The following day Mrs. Frank McDonald will give a luncheon and personal shower for Miss Brown at the Exmoor Country club.

BETROTHAL TOLD

The betrothal of their daughter, Carolyn, to Robert M. Rieck, II, is being announced by Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Baird of 20 S. Linden ave. Mr. Rieck is the son of the senior Rieck, of Durham, North Carolina.

Mr. Baird, who has just finished his sophomore year at Duke University in Durham, is a member of the Theta Tau Alpha fraternity. His fiancée has just completed his junior year at the same school.

September 1 has been chosen as the date of the wedding.

NANCY RIGGS, A BRIDE

Gowned in ivory satin, fashioned on Princess style, with three pleated fan-shaped insets of French lace in the skirt, an illusion neckline, lace yoke which formed the sleeves, trimmed in back with buttons from the neckline to the hem and ending in a long train, Miss Nancy Riggs became the bride of James Paul Johnson, Jr. on Saturday, June 16, in the Highland Park Presbyterian church at 8:30 p.m.

The bride's attendants were all gowned alike in pink organdy made with several rows of white embroidery on the skirt and trimmed with white lace. The head-dress of the maid of honor, Miss Marcia Riggs, sister of the bride, differed from the bridesmaids, as hers was a halo of tiny, deep pink flowers, and the bridesmaids' headpieces were tiaras of the same flowers in a lighter shade.

daughter of a cousin of the bride, acted as flower girl. A miniature of the other attendants, her pink organdy frock was lace trimmed and in the white basket, pink ribbon trimmed, which she carried, were pink rose petals. Jamie Hannum, of Arlington Heights, son of another cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. He wore a white Eton suit and carried the ring on a lace trimmed white satin pillow.

Dr. Johnson served his son as best man and the ushers were Dr. Joseph Graves of Baltimore, Md., brother-in-law of the bridegroom; Harry Redmond of Chicago; Gordon Smith and Warren Gardner of Chattanooga; Dr. Robert More, Sam Marabol, Dr. Guy Pennington and Hewitt Tomlin, all of Nashville.

Guests were seated from side aisles as the main aisle of the church was beautifully decorated with candelabra, white flowers and white satin ribbons. At the altar were ferns and two huge bouquets of pink and white flowers, for the candle-light ceremony.

The bride's mother chose a gown of blue chiffon and tissue faille, embroidered in white, for the occasion, and the bridegroom's mother was in white net, made with a lace bodice and trimmed in crystals. Each wore elbow length kid gloves. Their corsages were of white orchids.

A reception at the Exmoor Country club followed the ceremony.

Mr. Johnson and his bride are now at the Farmington Country club in Farmington, Va., on their honeymoon. Before going to Baltimore, Md., where they will make their home, they plan a stop-over in Ocean City, N. J. Mr. Johnson, who will receive the degree of doctor of medicine from Vanderbilt university, Nashville, will intern at Baltimore City hospital.

Out-of-town guests included the bridegroom's parents; Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kresensky and daughter, Alice, of Altona, Ia. (Mrs. Kresensky is Mrs. Riggs' twin sister); Mrs. James M. Pettigrew of Sioux Falls, S. D., maternal aunt of the bride; Mrs. Robert Whitley of Omaha, Neb.; Dr. and Mrs. Dale Osborn, Cincinnati, O., cousins of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Don Dixon of Putnam, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Mills and daughter, Milay, of Cincinnati, brother-in-law and sister of Mr. Riggs; Mrs. Larry Cawley of Ottumwa, Ia., also his sister; Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Neal of Cedar Rapids, Ia., his niece and her husband; Mr. Worth Percival of Detroit, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. William Hannum and sons, Billy and Jamie, of Arlington Heights; Mr. and Mrs. Allan Grimes and daughters, Truesdale and Gretchen, of Nashville; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hoyt of Waukegan; Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Graves of Baltimore and the Warren Gardners of Chattanooga.
