Premier Ross Winds up the Debate in a Very Able Speech—The Timber Outlook—Notes of the House.

The Ontario Government's majority is ten. That was the result of the first division of the session, held last night, and shows an increase of three since the House last met. The vote was the conclusion of the debate on the budget, which had lasted for nearly three weeks. An amendment by the Opposition deprecating the Government's attitude in connection with the West Elgin corruption cases formed the subject
