

Jan'y 29/02.

man challenge the testimony given by these gentlemen on oath before the commission? He concluded by stating that he had shown that the text-books were suitable; that they were cheaper than the books in the United States; that there was practically no monopoly, and that royalties are cheaper than paying lump sums.

The motion then carried.

The House adjourned at 6.30.