LEGISLATURE SITS ONLY 8 MINUTES

Unable to Proceed With Certain Bills as Price
Indisposed

QUERIES ABOUT O.A.C.

Eight minutes—and a scant eight, at that—was the length of time the Ontario Legislature sat yesterday.

Ordinarily, the sitting would have been of fair duration, but Attorney-General Price is slightly indisposed, and because of his absence from the House the Government could not proceed with the committee stage of certain legislation. After adjournment, the following questions were filed for the House order paper by D. J. Taylor, Progressive, North Bay:

1. Who is President of the Ontario Agricultural college?
2. What was the date of his appointment?
3. (a) What was his salary on appointment?
(b) What is his present salary?
4. Does the President receive any further emoluments from the Province or from any funds under the control of the department, or has he received any since appointment?
5. If so, what amounts and what are the details?
