

APRIL 3.

MAY REMIT FINE TO 'SAMARITAN'

Case Presents Problem,
House Told by Conant

FURNITURE MOVED

In reply to the request from T. L. Kennedy (Con., Peel) on Tuesday that he inquire into the case of a truck driver who was fined in Mimico Police Court for moving a friend's furniture without a license, Attorney-General Conant yesterday informed the House that he had been unable to determine whether it had been a neighborly act or not. He said that the trucker had stated he would be disappointed if he was not paid for the job, and also that the owner of the furniture said he intended to pay for the service. The Attorney-General also said that the owner of the furniture was not unemployed, as had been claimed.

Mr. Conant said that he had no intention of suggesting a change in the act which would cover such cases because the subterfuge of hauling for a neighbor is frequently offered as a defense.

Mr. Conant informed the House that an application had been made to the Minister of Highways for a remission of the fine, and he thought that the matter would be settled satisfactorily to all concerned.
