ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
York, Upper Canada, 15th December, 1827.

MILITIA GENERAL ORDER.

1.—Officers commanding Regiments in forwarding communications to the Adjutant General from persons under their command, will invariably state their opinions on the subject of such communications; and in the case of impaired health being made the ground of application for permission to relinquish the Militia Service, the Report of the Surgeon of the Regiment to which the applicant belongs (when there is one) should, together with the application, be forwarded to the Adjutant General, to enable him to afford to HIS EXCELLENCY the LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR every information which is essential to the matter submitted to his decision.

2.—The name of no Militia Officer is to be struck from the muster roll of the respective Regiment (unless in case of Death) without the authority of the Lieutenant Governor: and all cases of occurring vacancies, from whatever cause, are to be specially adverted to and explained in the Regimental Return, under the head of "Vacant Commissions."

3.—It being indispensable to the organization of every Military Corps that the individuals comprising it should be well acquainted with the orders issued for its governance, and the practice (so essential to that result) of reading the General Orders on the days of training, having fallen into disuse in several Corps of Militia, it is desired that in all future trainings the General orders which have been received by Regiments since the preceding day of training, be respectively read either on the Regimental or on the Company Parades; and Commanding Officers of Regiments will report in their Returns, that the Officers and Men, therein stated to be present, have in the form herein prescribed, been made acquainted with the General Orders.

By Command of His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor.

N. COFFIN,
Adjutant General.
