

VESSEL PASSAGES - 1936

Those T.M.H.S. members who were shipwatching around the Great Lakes during August and wondered where the ships were (many of them having laid up in June and July), might be interested to see what sort of vessel traffic there was in August, fifty-four years ago. The following passages, taken from the "Hamilton Spectator" of Tuesday, August 4th, 1936, come to us through the courtesy of member R. E. Taylor.
