Photo taken August 26, 1936, shows BRUCE HUDSON and RIVAL moored at the foot of Spadina Avenue, Toronto. They were sheltering from heavy weather.

BRUCE HUDSON is in difficulty on Lake Erie in 1937. This photo, courtesy Lorne Joyce, shows how wet her deck was in any kind of a sea.
