THE EDITOR'S NOTEBOOK

Our December Meeting was very well attended, and the assembled multitudes enjoyed a variety of marine photos taken by our late member, C. A. Lorrman. We are indebted to Marge Lorrman for making these views available, and to Gordon Turner for selecting slides for the show and working up some information on each one. It was your Editor's great privilege to introduce the Lorrman photos and to speak a bit about each one. They brought back some very pleasant memories...

It is now winter, and as noted on an inside page, we look forward to receiving your winter lay-up listings as soon as possible so that we may run our annual list of lay-ups for lake and river ports in the February issue. Your urgent assistance is solicited.

In this, our first issue of 1994, we would like to thank all those who have helped with "Scanner" over the past year, including correspondents, researchers, writers, staplers, stampers and deliverers. We also thank those who have chaired, introduced, presented or attended our regular meetings.
