A 1914 view, provided by Alan Mann, has HIAWATHA docked at the foot of Nelson Street, Wallaceburg, during an excursion.
