

The second BANSHEE was photographed at Bowen's Wharf, Kingston, in 1856. Beyond her stern can be seen her sometime running-mate CHAMPION. Photo from the National Archives of Canada, courtesy Ron Beaupre.

The date is September 23, 1992, and STADACONA is pulled down into W.S.C. Lock Seven by KAY COLE. Photo by Buck Longhurst.

WHITEFISH BAY, in her first season after reconversion to a straight-decker, was photographed in the St. Mary's River on July 20, 1983, by J. H. Bascom.