

TRAVELLER is upbound at Lock 15 of the Cornwall Canal in an early 1950s photo by C. Sandelin, courtesy of Dan McCormick.

The repowered TRAVELLER was towing ONTADOC on Toronto Bay when she was photographed by J.H. Bascom on April 10, 1968.

The late Rev. Edward J. Dowling, S.J., was photographing ships, one of his favourite pastimes, when he was caught by Ken Thro's camera at Little Rapids Cut in 1968.