

Dramatic view by lifeboatman A.F. Glaza shows the WALDO lying broken on the Keweenaw, Nov. 11, 1913, distress signal flying at the foremast.

Steam is up in the WALDO, pumps are working, and the G-tug D.T. HELM is alongside during 1914 salvage efforts.
