

EDMONTON
is downbound in the third Welland Canal in a photo from the Ontario Archives.
Soot obscures the Mathews
silver bands on her funnel

Rowley Murphy's camera caught EDMONTON in Port Dalhousie harbour early in her career. Seventeen ships are visible and all but one are identified.

EDMONTON
was outbound in Toronto Eastern Gap when
J. H. Bascom photographed
her on July 20, 1957.

