THE EDITOR'S LOGBOOK

Here we are back after two months. We hope that our members did not suffer too badly from "Scanner" deprivation. Your Editor, however, very much appreciated the respite over the holiday season.

The December meeting featured a digital slide show by Jim Gardiner, while in January we had an extremely successful theme slide event. We thank all who participated in both events.

Enclosed with this issue you will find an order form for the purchase of more back issues we are making available. Many of you have expressed interest in these, so now is your chance. With the March issue, you will find the list of items available in our next Silent Auction, and we urge all members to be generous with their bids. With another postal rate increase taking effect recently and "Scanner" production costs ever on the increase, we are in a "delicate" financial position even with the dues increase this season. We need every penny we can raise, so we hope you will make both the back issue sale and the Silent Auction over-the-top successful.
