MEETINGS

THE EDITOR'S LOGBOOK

The April Meeting featured an interesting presentation by Walter Lewis concerning not only his own Great Lakes marine history website, and how to find some of the early issues of "Scanner" in it, but also other lake marine websites which our members might find of interest. We sincerely thank Walter for his programme.

During the summer, your committee will be rethinking the whole issue of whether the remaining Friday evening dates should be changed over to Saturday afternoons. The Swansea Town Hall will have a new room without windows available, which should make afternoon slide shows more visible. We will let you know what is decided.

We would like to thank all those who donated or bid in our recent Silent Auction. We don't have exact dollar values yet available, but it was most certainly an "over-the-top" success!

By the time you read this, the Dinner Meeting will be history. We thank Buck Longhurst for a great programme and Bill Wilson (now recovering well from a serious illness) for making ticket and menu arrangements.

Ye Ed. now starts his summer vacation from the keyboard, but we'll be back to you with the Mid-Summer issue sometime in August. Have a happy summer.
