

Maple Syrup season kicks off with Sugarmaker's Breakfast at Mountsberg

Conservation-Halton invites you to celebrate the start of Maple Syrup season with its Sugarmaker's Breakfast.

That runs from 8 to 11 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 24 and Sunday, Feb. 25 at Mountsberg Conservation Area, with a wagon ride out to the bush and a hearty pancake breakfast by the wood stove kicking off a full day of Maple Town activities.

Visitors can participate in the old-time tradition of maple tapping (weather permitting) and learn about the rich history of maple sugaring and how to identify different varieties of maples.

Each family will receive a tapping kit to take home as a souvenir.

Visits to the family-friendly barnyard and Raptors Centre will round out the day's activities.

The breakfast is by advance registration only and can be done at www.conservationhalton.ca/events. The cost for the breakfast and admission is $25 for adults and $16 for seniors and children 14 and under.

Mountsberg is located on Milborough Line, 5 kilometres west of Campbellville.
