Along with the updated menu, the interior has been given a makeover. Come summer, Manuel says they will also open a patio with a bar — welcoming those that often frequented the spot in the past, including the biker community.

“It’s a great place to start the day,” Manuel said, hoping to make Ice House a “breakfast destination.”

A breakfast place in Campbellville that has been around for more than 20 years has reopened under new ownership.

Ice House Restaurant’s new owner Sunil Manuel said that customers were happy to return to the neighbourhood spot.

“This is a well-known place in the community ... They come to have coffee, sit and chat,” Manuel said, as they enjoy a selection of all-day breakfast items, including omelettes, muffins, hot cakes and French toast — as well as a three to five-item combo with a
