1st. An advantage in buying to ourselves, of at least 10 per cent. 2n l. -We have to pay nothing for book-keepers and extra clerks. 3rd. We will not have to nev lawyers and bailiffs for collecting.

4fh. We will not make bad friends by dunning. And we might go on showing the advantages, but they can be summed up and truthfully thus-they are too numerous to mention.

Credit at one time was necessary from the very nature of our country; that state of things having passed away, it can only be continued at a loss to all who have anything to do w. th it. It is munifestly unjust, because those who pay make up for those who inn't. We can sell cheaper if we stick to ready money; miny my we can't, because the disease of credit has become chronic; so it muy be, but with us it has sickened and lied. We would invite all who can to give us a call. We believe our system will enable us to do better for those who may deal with us than any other. Our Sugars & Tobaccos Will be found as cheap as any in the market, taking quality into account.

ELIPUDIR SO With this department of our bust ess we have been must particular; they have been purchased on the most favorable terms from a house of standing and character, and w. have confidence they are undulter sted. We will neith it adulterate nor purchase such knowingly. To those who wast cheap liquors, we can only say, the spirits for mixing we can sell to them the water tiey can get cheapen at home generally than they could purchaser can by this means make it. A go d article at a fair price is our theory, and it can only be proved by trying. We are not strangers in the community, and desire to renew the old ties, which, from change, and emporary absence, have in a measure been

MILEOD OF GEORGETOWN,

Are happy to inform their Putrons that TUEIR MR. BARCLAY has just returned from Mentreal, where he made extensive purchases of STAPLE and FANCY

And taking advantage of the panic that provailed at the time in the Cotton Market, he bought largely at prices at least 30 per cent, below what such goods could have been purchased for one month ago, the public will therefore please notice that they pledge themselves.

To sell all Cotton Goods from 30 to 50 per cent CHEAPER than ANY HOUSE in the Trade, who bought their cottons car'y in the season. Their Stock of Dress goods surpasses Anything of the Hind ever exhibited in the County of Halton, and in fact quite equals, if not superior, to that of any establishment in Canada West, for veriety of STYLE QUALITY and PAICE. Special a tention has been given to MOUR NING GOODS. In this line will be found ALPACA, COBOURG BARATHEA, MERINO & PARRAMATTA, CRAPES, &c. Ludies and Gentlemen requiring BRIDAL OUTFIRS will find all they require at McLean, McLear & Co: ANEIBENE COME CHESTER Are well worthy an inspection, supplied as they are with the latest novelties of the day. Some lots have been purchased at about half pe will be sold at decided bargains.

Bas special attraction this season, being under the charge of a lady of great experience. The utmost confidence is felt in recommending this de partment to the ladies. A very fine assortment of trimmed Bonnets and flats always on hand, and orders promptly attended to.

THE TAILORING DEPARTMENT Is unequalled for style and finish. Gentlemen wenting a fishiomble suit will please make a note of this, as they grarantee all work done equal to uny first class city establishment, und at a third less price. 500 Suits of Ready Made Clothing

To choose from, a'l cut on the premises, and warranted superior to any strok of clothing in the County, both as to fit and durability.

McLEOD Beg to return their most sine rethanks for the extraord nary encouragement they have received in time past, and would just say that from the increased faci ities they process in purchasing, they are able to offer very great indicements to the public to deal with them, and they are determina ed to merit und maintain the position that they now occupy, of being the leading D.y Goods House in the Quanty of Halton. Cash paid for WOQL delivered at their STORE.
