

GTHE PRESS—The Palladium of the People's Rights."

Milton Business Directorn.

NOTARY PUBLIC,

SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY

Main Street, Malton.

Rebc 10. 1864.

CONVEYANCER &c.,

G & BASTEDO

Erown Attornett, Barrister, &cc.,

MILLTON.

Coyne, Laidlaw & Gilchrist,

Bauristers & Attorneus-at-Law,

SOLICITORS IN CHANCERY,

T. CROOKER, M. P.,

PHYSICIAN, SURGEON & ACCOUCHEUR,

Coroner for County of Halton.

MILTON. Q. W.

OFFICE AND RESIDENCE The house lately

I. B .- Diphtheria and all affections of the PHISICIAN, SURGEON & ACCOUCHEUR.

MILON, Q. W.

MILTON,

U daily, and every Tuesday forencon.

Dr. Winn

Sargron U.S. A.,

MILTON, C. W.

George Brockitt Abrey,

MILTON, COPPHAL ON

A STUDENT WANTED.

WILLIAM A. AGIR,

Glazier and Paper Hanger.

P. B ZIMMERMAN,

reasonable prises.

Milton, January 6, 1864.

M Iton, Sept. 12, 7865.

MILTON.

FILE subscriber having leased the above and the best Wines, Liquors and Cigars are

Good Stabling and attentive Her

JOHN HOLG & TE.

ACCOUNTANT

DAVID McKINNON,

RRISTER & ATTORNEY-AT-LAW

SOLICITOR IN CHANCERY,

City Hotel Buildings, James street, opposit

J(IN McKOWN,

JAMES SPARET, HAMILTON

DAVIS

Milton, Oct. 19, 1864.

Throat and Chest treated successfully.

CONVEYANCERS, &c. &c. &c.

MILTON, COUNTY OF HALTON, THURSDAY, MAY 3, 1866.

COMMERCIAL

JINON ASSITEANOR COY. Barrister and Attorney-at-Law, CHIEF OFFICE, 19 CORNHILL, LONDON, E.C.

Capital 812,500.000: Invested over $7,000,000. Fire Department

Justiment of charges proportionate to each risk incurred, instead of being bound in indiscriminating and unvarying tar ff. TIPE DEPARTMENT: For the pre-eminent advantages off rea by this C mpany see prospectus and circular Mesers MORL IND. WITSON & Co, Munaging Directors and General Agents for the T.C LIVING TON, P. L. S., Inspector and General Superintendent of the Com-

Promptness and liberality in the settlement of claims. All losses adjusted without re OFFICES. - Brampton and Milton. Office in Milton, next door, west of Wallaces' new A GENTE BRAMPTON-R Trotter; M dicar Referee, Dr.Ramsey. GENRIETOWN & Vicinity -R. Forsaveth; dedical Referee. D. Freeman, Robert Baroer, Screetsville; William Inhartson Oakville ; Wm Buntin, Wellington Square.

NEW STORS, MAIN-ST., GEORGETOWN. OF MILTON:-R. Matheson; Medical Referee, Dr. Crooker, CBBIBET MBEBO EGS leave to notify his numerous customers and the public generally, that he still carries on his business on ST. A FEW DOORS EAST OF THE POST OFFICE consulting Physician & Surgeon.

Where he still keeps on hand a large assortment of FIRST-CLASS FURNITURE, any part of the County.

WIRE MINN, WILL STREET, Millon. Or- He was a hearty, fresh colored, portly as he stood at the gangway of the Shoot- dangerously near the ice, and that we

Where every description of PRAVIS BUILDING, Georgetown, C.W. having policy located in this having policy policy and the last of t

Saddie, Harness, Trumks, Whips Brushes, satisfaction. Teeth fided in the best man- on the short st not go. Every article warranted, and so dat prices which cannot faif to ner. Gleansing, extracting, and all-other give entire sati faction. Part cular attention paid to making a sate Collar, and whigh a long experience warrants him in off ring to his easylmers. Every description of Fancy Protting darness made to order. Remarks meath and puncto dly a negotial to, RICHARD JONES, Manager.

J. STEARN,

THE ANKEUL for past patronage, begs to acquaint hi T. H. KENNEDY, Proprietor. hand a large stock of Plain and Jappaned Tinware, &c. &c. Eave Troughs, and every description of work in his line execu-on the shortest inities. Sheepskins, Rage Wood, Pickings. On.

1ron, Copper, and Parm Produce taken in exchange at one prices.

2. Milton, October 25th 1865.

Isaac Hanter, WALLER NEW HOTEL ASHGROVE Ashgrove, October, 13th, 1865.

da Linded Credit Company and other com-

Lowest Prices in Milton

as he can assure them that none will I av bi shop not satisfied of the above facts style, and at the lowest remunerative prices.

class security, on real estate. Apply to

James Matthews

in Queen's Berch. &c., &c.,

Out, 6th, 1803,

IVISION COURT CLERK, No. 1; Issu-

ACTON, C. W.

N. B.-Mr. Matthews Is authorised to take subscriptions and advertising for the CHAM-

Flox, and receive payment for the same.

er of Marriage Licenses, Commissione.

F. W. IEHAUS.

G. T. BASTEDO.

v3-20-1y.

Will be found at

Robert Swanton Appelbe, D CITUR IN CHANCERY. DARVILL Custom work made in the latest

D, ROBERTSON, M.D.,C.,. MONEYTO LOAN Residence NAME AGAMETA, C.W.

Nassagaweya, May 23, 1864. $4,000 on hand for investment on easy terms, in first S. R. Lister, DIVI ION COURT CLERK, COMMIS-Listoner in Queen's Bench, Lic need Auctioneer, Accountant. &c. Debts collect-Nassagaweya, April 5. 1864.

W. BURGER.

tended to in any part of the County on reasonable terms, and at short notice, Milton, Sept. 27th, 1864.

And General Stagellouse. MILITON. C. THE Subscriber begs to inform the Pub-L lie that he has moved to his new Hotel.

on the corner of Main and Brown Streets. where he will be glad to wait upon his old patronage will receive every attention. He would also inform the public that he rans the Mail' Stage, once each day between lilton and Bronte. He also runs a dully JOHN WALLACE.

Milton, Feb. 23td. 1864

WATERLIME

CHEAP FOR CASH AT M'CRANEY & THOMPSON'S, Bronte, Nov. 29th, 1865 ACARD.

Revenue, Hess Street, near York.

Office hours from 9 to 4 o'cio.

H milton, Oct, 27, 1863.

TING STREET WYST, Directly opposite the Telegraph & Express MANILON; C. W.

Hamilton, Dec. 14, 1863.

Little hands upon her breast Folded in a quiet rest; Hands as white as lilies' snow-Hands whose touch no more we know.

Blue eyes closed in silent sleepclosed in slumber long and deep; Lashes on the pure white face, Like a sunbeam's golden grace.

Hair as bright as sambeam's gold, Rose-buds in its silken hold; Soon will gleam within her h nd, Lilies from a heavenly strand,

Baby, baby, wa'e from sleep, For the silence groweth deep; Wake, and greet us with your voice, Bid our aching hearts rejoice,

Ah! poor hearts! those tones no more, Greet you on this carthly shore; She is singing with the blest God's sweet hymns of peace and rest.

[From "All the Year Round."]

'Captain Ritson, allow me to introduce going, that is the long and short of it. OFFICE -Formerly Occupied by the Mr Pennant, your new purser. have a little talk on business with Cap- Who wants her poking her nose here? I.R. C. FREEMAN. tain Ritson.'

Mr. Blizzard, of the firm of David & Blizzard, 72 Limehouse Street, Liverpool, continued: FFI E HOUR -From 8 until 10 A. M. Captain Ritson, we want to make this first trip of the Shooting Star an auspicious trip; we want to have our vess the first into Quebec this year. PHYSCIAN, SURGEON, &C. save the dues to the firs vessel that arrives the docks, and it wasn't sent in Graduate University of Toronto, and late from England; but it is not so much for the sake of the value of the dues as name up We do not. of course, want to run any danger. No, that is by no you to skirt the ice, and run in on the very first opening. You will get off Labrador just in time for the frost to have thawed, and with care, there need | be no risk whatever.'.

He played with his watch-chain as he was it?" 3-1y-52 | ished boots planted on the immovable swollen features. rock of a large capital, Mr. Bizzard 'It was the grog, Joe, as did it,-all tion.

but a fear in the world. The mate, Mr chism used to say.' Carlew, by no mea a so pleasant to look | 'And how do you like our captain a sight of land.' averous person, with yellowish eyes, sat | breath. Allienn Hatel sad busines' (here the captain held up shore. sorrowfully an ecormous hat covered 'Look alive, you skullers, there,' it mind a poor old beast like me.'

upo ato command. been very ill with a touch of pleurisy. Captain Ritson. but our first mate here, Mr Cardew, has

The mate nodded assent. 'And the cargo is ----?'

this information, as he spoke, as if he puncilious quietude. NO ARY PUBLIC, &C. might not be laden with frankincense, ol,—some money matters,—some threat bloodshot and phosphurescent with a Barrister, dec.

·We sail to morrow morning, Sunday,' deck said Captain Bitson, who was a Wesleyan, to the purser, as they left the office twentieth day after the Shooting Star of Messers. David & Blizzard; 'I likes had started. He was head down at his you. to hear the blessed Sabbath bells calling accounts, and the luminous green shade to one another as I go out of the Mer- over the lamp threw a golden light upon sey, and the men like it; and, what's rows of figures and the red lines that cabin stars. more, it's lucky. It's like the land divided them, He working silently, taking leave of us, as I always say, Liquest, zealous fellow that he was when giving a sort of a blessing on the ship; a low tap came to the cabin-door. how I take it. It's the day I always it was old Thompson, the quartermaster, the captain was down upon it. staft, Sunday is.' The purser expressed his hope that care.

he should succeed in doing his duty, and don't you be afraid. Won't he Mr Car- hand on either knee.

Clear, streight forward eyes, and all above board.' Mr Cardew thought he would do.

never did like ships with those sort of old rope and patch sails, and I can stoop in the Morning Star, Stick to plain I did this, for good.' . in miberal to names. Besides. it's too early in the season. Now, do oblige me, Joe, and live it up. Stay for a fortnight latter; get an Australial ship. It's stoo ear y for Canada. It is, indeed. Mrs Thompson says so ' 'Jenny, my love, you're a silly little woman. A pretty sailor's wife you make! Come, pack up my kit, for I'm Nonsense about sentiments. And who is Mrs Thompson, I should like to know? Why did she drive her husband away with her magging, and temper, and botheration? Tell her to mind her own business. Pretty things, indee | Como. dear, no nousence; pack up my kit.'

But, Joe dear, there was your photograph fell off the nail on Tuesday, that save the dues; for they always return the docks, and it wasn't sent for no- it is something about our first mate. men stretched out half asleep. shall, so don't make it painful, there's a the eclat of the thing. Our trade with good little woman. Come, I'll go up leak." Canada is large, and we want to get our with you now, and kiss George and Lizzy. I won't wake them; then we'll Problucial Land Surbepor, means the wish of the firm; but we wish for the chest. Keep a good heart; you know I shall soon be back. I've got a fire. nice captain, and a smart first mate.

and the first mate, who sat in a uncome side with a rueful look. He was a pur- packs off Labrador. fortable half circle. With his well-pol- ple, jolly, sottish-looking man, with such casualties as mere well devised thing went wrong; but I've struck off firmer on his head to express hatred for shouting leaping men. Five sailors fic is s. Unptain Ritson was a big North-coun- a ship, that's about it,—lost myself, too, in their log. Then they went on to ou the purser. The mutiny had broken try man, with a broad acreage of chest, Jue; and here I am, with my hands in propose sinking the slip, lashing down out at last, box cruel wells rengel from clear grey eyes, and large, red hands,— the tar bucket again, trying to do my the captain and those who wouldn't from stern to stern. All who favored a sturdy, honest, self reliant man, with- doory in that station of life, as the cate- join them, destroying all evidence, and the captain were in a moment, with on being a little spare, thin-legged, end and crew, sir?' Pennant said, under his in sullen subservioney o the very edge Captain's as good a man as ever trod first mate, as he let out, has had the lad- which the blood streamed, and advanced of his chair, just behind the captain. in shoe leather, upright man, though ing of the vessel. Well, what did he to where the captain stood bound and The purser, a brisk, cheery, stout young he will have the work done, but the do, with the help of some scoundred pale with rage, you see, L amostronger fellow, sat deprecatingly (as if he thought crew ain't much, between ourselves, friend of his, a shipping agent, but re than you thought, If I chose, I could he ought to stand) a trifle farther back Four of them first class, the rest loafers move two thirds of the machinery from at once let you overboard, with a rope and skulkers, waiting to emigrate, pick- the cases, unknown, of course, to Mr. and freeze you to death; I could have Right it is, Mister Blizzard, said the ed up the quays, half thieves, half de Blizzard, and pile them up with old iron, you pelted with bottles, or put an end his chest, as if preparing for an immedi- all run when they get to Quebec. Then because his father was dying, and now shall spare you now, to pay you out betate gale, and about to order overything there's the first mate, he's a nice nigger- they want to sink the vessel, and then to be battened down. 'Right it is, and driver, he is bound for a bad port, I to go home and sell the plunder. That's Last night you refused to join me in my a better vessel than the Shooting Star I think. I wouldn't trust him with a about the size of it.' don't hope to see. She's sound, Mr ship, that's all I can say, unless it was Come this moment and tell the cap- who exposed do to danger and then un. Blizzard, I do believe, from main truck a private ship, that he might get on tain of this scound el, said the purser, derpay use Now will not ancept your to keel,—sound, if I may use the ex- with; but he is smooth enough before leaping up and locking his desk re- partnership. O, you re a rash, violent pression, as a pious man's conscience. the captain,—he takes care of that, - solutely.

native place, down Allonby way, on very shrill voice screaming curses from the thing ripen a little; let me pick up and get out the wine; we'll have a spree lading of this 'ere wessel I am called I'll let you know. We shan't be ready spiteful voice, as the door was burst cold enough for these fellows, ain't it? with black crupe,) I couldn't see to the cried,—it was the mate's voice,—'or by Tuesday, if you don't hurry. Not a violently open. Where is this purser Bot it will make them warm seeing us upon to command.

That is of no consequence at all, Bap. drop of grog before the works done, fellow? Who is it dares to disobey my drinking.

That is of no consequence at all, Bap. drop of grog before the works done, fellow? Who is it dares to disobey my drinking.

That is of no consequence at all, Bap. drop of grog before the works done, fellow? Who is it dares to disobey my drinking. tain Ritson, said Mr Blizzard, pouring mind that. I'll have no infernal grumb, order? What do you mean, purser, by and the sange credited smong the out three glasses of sherry all in a row, ling while I'm mate; and what are you not serving out this rum? No skulking and the sange the from a decenter on an inky mantle-piece doing there, quartermaster, idling? Mr here. Thompson, go on deck. see 6-1y near him. 'I have been away at Man- Preser, see of once if the stores are all made taut for the night, and the fog-bell chester, and my partner. Mr David, has in, and hand in the bills to me to give to rigged, or we shall be run down in this captain and seven friends, lying bound

The men ragged, sullen fellows, worked harder, but cursed in an under-

The moment the captain came on Agricultural implements, machinery, board, the mate's manner entirely alter- ed the captain's orders, and I shall comed. He crouched and whispered, and tinue to do so till you take command of almost supernatural splendor. The elec-Mr Blizard referred to a ledger for asked for orders, spoke to the men with the vessel. I'm going on deak for a tric lustre lit the pale face of the captain scarcely knew, in his multiplicity of Cardew had some strange hold over sir. business, whether the Shooting Star the captain, as the purser soon discover-p ar , gold-dust, and poll-parrots,-but which he held over Ritson's head, about cruel light. his fathers farm in Cumberland, - some Having ascertained the fact. Mr Bliz- power that the captain dreaded, though said; if I was your captain, I'd maroon last, and although only a week's notice zard carefully replaced the ledger, and, he tried to appear cheerful, trusting and you on an iceberg, before you were was given, there was a good turn out. turning his back to his company, poked indifferent. At first tyra nical to the five hours older, and I'd let you know A large amount of the first call of twenty the fire, and consulted a large sheet men, Cardewhad now begun to concili- first, with a good bit of pickled rope, per cent was paid in, and so well satisfi-3.421y almanac over the mantle piece, as a sign ate them in every possible way, especitive was to disobey your superior ed are the stock holders that some offered the interview was over.

| almanac over the mantle piece, as a sign ate them in every possible way, especitive was to disobey your superior ed are the stock holders that some offered the interview was over.

The purser was in the cabinet, at least, I'm a plain man, and that's leaped off his seat and opened the door : who shut it after him with a suspicious

Well, Thompson, said the purser, pleasing the captain and all his employ- looking up with an over worked and troubled expression 'what is it ?'

T'tell you what it is, Mr Pennant, but he did not lock on the purser at all, 'Thompson, you've been at the rum simple question. Have you seen His mind was running on different again, said the amazed purser, in a ream sober as the day I was born. or no? Never you mind how I learned what I 'Joc.' said the purser's wife, when am going to tell you. -There was a time when no one dare accuse Jack Thomps names. The best run you ever had was to do things I should have been asham- he said, and we will acttle this matter in the Jane Parker, and the worst one ed of once, even if I had done them, as at once. Sem one has been altering There came at this moment a per rap at the door, and Harrison, the ship's

> Well, what do you want? said the purser, in his sharp, honest way. 'If you please sir, there's air ice fog coming on, and Mr. Cardew says, the men are to have an extra glass of grog round, as there will be extra watches.'

'No, sir; Mr. Cardew. Captain's been up all night, and is gone to lie the vessel. The men were lying down ments, that the captain told me yester. clean as a pink; not a bolt head or brase day never to serve out rum without his but shone as well as anything coul 'Yes sir.' The boy left.

night I saw a shooting star fall, close to know the worst. I think-I suspect- the cutrance to the fo'ksal were same this is going to be an unlucky voyage, I'l he coptain said not a word but walls. Go I must, Jenny dear, and go I I can see. Let us hear the worst quick, ed straight up to the man at the wheel that we may do something to stop the and looked at the compass.

Ducth temperament, and by no means west an hour agon mind

When I heard the first mate and the my way, I'd steer home. carpenter talk about only two hours ago was this, The ico-fog's come on, came up and took the the wheel from Mr. Blizzard said all this, leaning 'Why, Capt. Thompson, who ever and the men (a bad lot in any weather, him insolently, as if in defiance of the against his desk, and nestled in among thought to have found you here, and all but Davis and two or three more) captain. the files of invoices and bills of lading, only quarter master?' said the purser, are beginning to think we're running ders left at Thompson's Potel, will be man, very neat in his dress, and re- ing Star, watching the fresh provisions shall get nipped. The mate, when the storming. I'm a plain man, and markable for a white waist-cost, that brought in. 'Well, I am sorry to see captain is away, encourages them in this like plain dealing, Mr Cardew, I've had seemed as hard and stainless as enamel. you so reduced, sir, I am, indeed. How idea, and the worst of them talk now of enough of your lying tricks; let go the forcing the captain to steer more south. Wheele, sir, and go to your carbaco Conspoke, and eyed the captain, the purser. The quartermaster drew him on one ward, so as to keep clear of the ice-sider yourself under arrest for mutinous

The purser started and ut'ered an take this man down. explamation of surprise and indigna- Cardew still refused to let go the

M. ARMOUR, seeined to look boldly seaward metaph- the infernal grog, he said. I lost my Gelay there, Mr. Pennant, said the the captain felled him with a blow in orically, and consider wrecks and last ship, the Red Star, and then every. quartermast r, forcing his son wester on a moment the deck seemed alive, with taking to the boats as soon as there was curses and cruel threals, overpon pred

But what for ?' captain, buttoning his pilot-coat across serters, not worth their salt. They'll unknown to the captain, who was away to in some other agreeable way; but what I can in the fo'ksal, they don't to-n girt, for to-morrow we shall be on What's all this ? cried a shrill. England. We'll have a night of it. Its Thompson slu k out of the cabin.

his cap quietly from its p g. 'Mr. Cardow, he said, 'I only obeysmoke before I turn in.—Good night, and his fellow-prisoners.

The mate's ayes became all at once me to lock up my cabin?

the ship-boy dared to cough, that sters He reproving pause between the verses ; even the spray broke over the hatchwar.

he collected the Bibles, the captain touchedohim on the shoulder to gi I want a word with you. Mr. Pen: The quartermaster sat down with a nant, he said, sitting sorrawinlly down at the table with his hand on his telescope, and his large prayer book still between you and me, there a mischief open before him, You and an honest faithful fellow, and I pant to ask you a heard anything lately that makes you think the first mate is playing doubles and exciting the men to mutiny?

The captain did not lift his eyes from the tuble at this answere but gave and Birke: head, and announced his new ap- son of cave droping, without getting an slight, halfdisdainful sigh apoured out of pointment. 'I don't know how it is, but answer straight between the eyes, and glass of water and drank it, then rose live got a strong presentiment, and I quick too; but now I'm a poor rascal shook the purser by the hand, and look no one cares for; only fit to mend old ed steadily in his f ce.

Come up with me, purser, on deck. irons alf itreost mei my kight hundiki keep him in irons I'm a fool pot about that man in Liverpook.

When the captain stood upon the deck, the chill, white ico-fog was again bearing down fast on the Shooting Star. Did Captain Ritson himself give the gloom that was depressing in a sea A Sabbath calm reigned ever by the trim rope coils, tsome reading some conversing; not a plank but was shine in that lurid light. The mate and carpenter were sitting mear the

'Now, Mr. Quartermaster, let us wheel, looking at the advancing fog ; Why, you're steering south.

The quartermastor, a stolid man, of said, quietly, and I told you nor nor to be hurried, proceeded as calmly as if . I am steering as the first mate told, he were spizning a yarn over the galley me, said the fellow spllenly. I can's steer as every one want's mo. If it was The first mate, as the man said this Right you call it; said the captain egaduet. Burser, you are a witness wheel. With the quickness of thought and bound to the mast and rigging.

'Now, Captain Ritson, said Cardew, What for? Why, for this. The as he rose with a yellow face, down

Now, agast heaving there, not just where's your. Providence of now ever, is that, having been sent for to my Just at that moment there came a yet, Mr Purser, by your leave; let the Come, my boys, loave there fools, of the monotonous and funeral for bell, the against the frozen shrouds, the vapor lifted for a moment eastward and display-The purser did not flinch; he took ed an aurora borealis that lit up all the borizon with a majestic fan of orimson and phosphorescent light that darted upward its keen rays, and thobbed with

(CONCLUDID NEXT WEEK.)

EDEN MILLS PETROLEUM COMPANY. -A public meeting of the shareholders 'I tell vou what it is, Pennant, he of this Company was held on Briday Thank have not yet paid up the amount of their dall, will do so at once. The derrick i With this good-humored defiance the already orected, and a new engine purser ran laughing and singing, up the 16 horse power has been ordered from Mair, Robertson & Co., which it is eg-It was Sunday morning, and the ice. pested will be ready by [the middle of bad lifted. The vessel had wet

ERIES, iment of * 18 12:12

RYE, HISKEY,

T CUTLERY, by the barrel

mpsey. rm bis nume.

d best Boar of on, or that has Terms, $1.— beir breed of selves of this qualities. we or a term of cleared and led by the vil-Farm with nd weil clear-g, County of

REMAN, er Creek P. O. m in park lots 1866. -30 ly

Cigars, and of larly to and an attentive ARDSON.

ERIE S & C.,

of cultivation scriber on the Lyon.

BROWN.

1900

1006 and 40-tf

ived!

uors

blic generally Small Chester his weight is s of pigs have

Trafalgar

culars apply

antly supplied delicacies of re reasonable.

to give him a