They commenced oper-ations in 1850, and their acres of ground, and has cost more than a million dollars, and employs over 700 operatives. They produce half of all the watches old in the United States. Up to the present time, it has been impossible for them to do more than supply the constantly in creasing home demand; but recent additions to their works have enabled them to turn their attention to other markets. The difference between their manufacture and the European, is briefly this : European Watches are made almost entirely by hand. In them, all those mysterious an infinitesimal organs which when put together create the watch, are the result of slow and toil-ome manual processes, and the result is of necessity a lack of uniformity, which is indispensable to correct time-ke-ping. Both the eye and the hand of the most skillful operative must vary. But it is a fact that, except watches of the higher grades. European watches of the higher grades. European watches are the product of the cheapest labor of Switzerland, and the result is the worthless Ancres, Lepins and so called Patent Levers-which soon cost more in attempted repairs. than their original price. Common workmen, boys and women, buy the rough separate parts of these watches from various factories, polish and put them together, and take them to the nearest watch merchant. He stamps and engraves them with any name or brand that may be ordered--whether London, Paris, Geneva or what not ; and many a man who thinks he has a genuine "M. I. Tubias of Liverpool," (whose only fault is that he can never regulate it to keep very good time), is really carrying a cheap and poor Swiss imitation.

HOW AMERICAN WATCHES ARE MADE The American Waltham Watch is made by no such uncertain process-and by ro such incompetent workmen. All their operations, from the reception of the raw materials--the brass, the steel, the silver, the gold and the precious stones, to the completion of the Watch, are carried on under one roof, and under one skillful and compctent direction. But the great distinguishing feature of their Watches, is the fact that their several parts are all made by the finest the most perfect and delicate machinery ever brought to the aid of human industry. Every one of the more than a hundred parts of every watch is made by a machine- that infallibly reproduces every succeeding part with the most unerring accuracy. It was only necessary to make one perfect watch of any particular style and then to adjust the hundred machines necessary to reprodure every part of that watch, and it follows that every succeeding watch must be like it. If any part of any American Waltham Watch should be lost or injured, the owner has only to address the Company, stating
