We note a single purchase of 1,500 bales 1868's on private terms, bought by the same party who took up the 1,-,000 bale lot referred to in our Circular of 10th inst. This 2,500 bales comprise a good portion of a stock which has been for a long time held in reserve by one of our large concerns. While these heavy purchases have not yet been productive of any marked improvement in values, they have certainly given a much better tone to the general market, rendering sales of all classes easier to make, besides affording holders of small lots: of old an opportunity to get rid of stock, which before was unsaleable.
