They appear to be leaving us in swarms. The exodus from Liverpool to the United States and Canada this spring promises, to be the largest on The number of intending emigrants who daily reach Liverpool is so great that the lodging-house keepers find it difficult to accommodate them, and the consequence is that large numbers of the emigrants have to be temporarily lodged until such times as vacancies occur in the customary lodging houses. As showing the exte t of the exodus, it is generally believed, says the Manchester Examiner, that upwards of 10.-000 emigrants left Liverpool last week for the United States and Canada. This Peas steamers calling at Londonderry and

From the number of emigrants at present in Liverpool, and that are expected during the next few days, it is computed that very soon from 14,000 to 16,000 people will have sailed from the Mersey in thirteen steamers for the United States and the Canadian ports. Many of them, no doubt, are Germans, and some are from the Baltic ports, but vast numbers are English and Irish, and why they should leave us at this rate when we have so large a surplus in the School Teachers' se ond and third class Exchequer that we hardly know what certificates will be held (DV) in the to do with it-when we are almost alarmed at our own prosperity-when we have a more than paternal Government, ever anxious to perform great economists can answer. The tide of emigration from Germany is almost equally marvellous, for it there is a prosperous county in Europe it is Ger.
