THE "RIGHT HOUSE."

Milton, April 23rd, 1873.

TATATKINS HAVING JUST RETURNED AFTER PURCHASing his stock in Europe, never was in as good a position to sell extra cheap and show an extra large variety of Dry Goods in every branch, as the present season. His imports will be one-third more than any previous spring, and from the fact of his buying his goods for cash direct from the manufacturers, and selecting them personally, he can sell good and fashionable articles at much lower prices than inferior goods are sold for in many places. His Millinery and Mantle rooms will be opened in a few days with the choicest novelties of the season. His shawl department comprises the rarest styles of Ottoman, Tissue Lace, and Paisley from fifty cent sto forty dollars each. His Lace department will contain the most fashionable makes of Nottingham silk, real thread, and York lace, and real lace goods in black, white and colored. He has an immense stock of the very newest and most fashionable dress goods comprising silks-Japanese, Balermos, Lustres, Tissue cloth, Martalan, Crapes, Victoria Lawns, Yosemite stripes, Pique's cloth, Muslins, etc., etc., in all the useful colors. Mourning goods in great variety. Ladies un lerclothing in every article usually worn by them, cheaper than they can buy the cloth and have them made. Horrockses 36 inch wide cotton at a York-shilling. Good scarlet flannel, a quarter dollar. Very excellent prints, 10 cts. Beautiful styles of fast madder prints, a a York shilling. His stock of carpets, floor oil cloths, wool repps, and damasks will be much larger than usual, and very much below usual prices, while they are of the best qualities offered by the trade in Canada. Milliners, Uphosterers, and Undertakers supplied at wholesale prices. Carpets, and silks by the dress sold at wholesale prices. Warps for weavers at wholesale. A large lot of superior cotton bags much below the wholesale price to grain dealers and merchants. Milliners and mantlemakers wanted.
