is a deer, which the enterprising proprietor, M. H. Williams, got up north. The Methodist Church was crowded at both services on Sunday to listen to B. Rautenberg, a converted Jew. who was announced to preach. The preacher told the story of his life and conversion in a vivid and impressive manner, speaking of the struggles. privations and vicissitudes of his wide . and varied experience. He spoke strongly and forcibly against cardplaying and gambling, which had caused his ruin and downfall. Mr. Rauten. berg pursued the calling of a commercial traveller, but since his conversion. two and a half years' ago, has been engaged in evangelistic work, and is at studying for the Methodist ed a lecture in the Methodist Church prices.
