There will be no general election in he Ontario until after the session of 1902. On Tuesday Premier Ross introduced a bill providing that Parliament shall not expire until after the close of the next session. He explained that under the act as it stood Parliamen would expire on March 29th, 1902, and that as the session would not begin until about Feb. there would not be time to complete the business before the House. His bill would overcome that difficulty.

We Have An Excuse...

For not having a "special sale." We have no old relics in the way of teas to sell. Gold dollars are worth 100c. It takes 100 cents to buy a dollar's worth of the kind of tea we sell.
