cone for weeks without sleeping, but it has been proved that they do sleep without being aware of it. At a certain point sleep is inevitable, no mat-ter what the bodily condition, the alternative being death. Prisoners have slept on the rack of the inquisition.

| And the Chinese found that only the greatest ingenuity and vigilance could carry out a sentence of death by sleeplessness. This mode of capital punishment was long in favor in China and is said to be so today, while as a form of torture deprivation of sleep is considered one of the most efficacious weapons in the Chinese Judicial arsenal. In some such cases the prisoner is kept in a cage too small to stand up or le down in and constantly prodded with a sharp rod. Death by starvation, also a Chinese punitive method, is a slower process and therefore, one I would think, more calculated to appeal to the oriental mind if it were not that death by sleeplessness is thought so much more painful. In the latter case the brain is the first affected of all the organs of the body, while in case of starvation the brain longest Youths' and Mens' Straw Hats 30 to retains its normal weight and charac-

> "A corresponding mode of taming wild elephants is said to be depriving the animals of sleep when first caught. In a few days they become comparatively spiritless and harmless. The brain of the elephant is held to be more highly developed than that of any other wild animal, but of course as compared with a human brain can be easily fatigued by new impressions and so made very dependent on sleep. The will elephant in his native jungle, however is said to sleep very Ettle-a further point for the theory of the universal ratio of sleep to intelligence. A mantaken out of his habitat and placed in conditions which he never could lave imagined-if transported to Man say-would doubtless need un extractinary amount of sleep at first. There's the almost parallel case of a German boy, Casper Hauser, who up to the ge of eighteen was kept in one room there he had no intercourse with human beings or sight of any natural object not even the sky. At eighteen he was brought to Nuremberg and abandored in the street. For the first few moths of his life among men he slept amost constantly and so soundly that it was very hard to wake him." The Sense of Feeling. Some our most important organsfor instance, the heart, the brain and the lung-are, strange to say, quite insensite to touch, thus showing that not oul are nerves necessary for the sensation but also the special end organs. The curious fact was noticed with the greatest astonishment by Harvey, who, while treating a patient for an abscess that caused a large cavity in his side, found that when he put his fingers into the cavity he could actually take hold of the heart without the patient being in the least aware of what he was doing. This so interested Harvey that he brought King Charles to the man's bedside that "he might himself behold and touch so extraor-I dinary a thing."

In certain operations a piece of skin is removed from the forehead to the nose, and it's stated that the patient. oddly enough, feels as if the new nasal part were still in his forehead and may have a headache in his nose.

In the Same Situation. A funny story is told about a physician at Monre City. A resident of the town set out shade trees for the doctor. A shor time later the physician was called to attend the motherin-law of the min who had set out the trees. The old dy died, and the physician present this bill. After paying it, the citizen thight of the trees and made out and presented a bill for them. "But the rees died," protested the doctor. "So my mother-in-law." retorted the other man. The doctor paid the bill.

Settling the Tip" Question The awkward question of the tipwas solved by a big law Englander fun the state of Maine who was dining a London restauranthe other evening Having paid his by he was informed by the waiter that what he had paid did "not include the waiter." "Waal," said the granger, "I ate no waiter, did 1?" And as he looked wite ready to do so on any further procession the sublect was dropped.

Opposite Memings. "Cleave" is the best instance of an English word with two opposite meanings. "Nervous," "let" and "propugn" are other instances.
