Fire in Milton. About 11.45 on Tuesday evening a fire broke out among the old foundry a purgative medicine in the hope of buildings on Commercial Street, owned by John Stewart. It began in the one next the creek, which was unoccupied and which had been used for years as a paint shop. The latter fact may account for the rapidity with which it burned. It was a mass of flames before it was noticed. The fire brigade lost no time about getting to work, but before they could get their hose coupled the fire had extended to another of the Stewart buildings, occupied by the Halton Cream & Butter Co., also to their ice house and to that of Fred Wales. These were all burned, but a good deal of the butter making plant and butter which had been prepared ready for shipmént was saved.

By the good work of the fire brigade, dalene Islands, Que, says - I was the main building of the old foundry pale, my heart would palpitate violently was saved, but the engine house was at the least exertion, and I suffered Rymal-At the residence of his son-in- his business affairs had much to do with, practically destroyed, although the en- greatly from severe headaches.
