A WISE BRITON.

He Half Suspected at the Start That the Feathers Weren't Edible. A Brooklyn man who entertained an English relative tells this without the quiver of an eyelid:

"My cousin from London reached New York last summer, along with a hot wave. The crowds were deep before the soda water fountains on lower Broadway. He remarked that he did not comprehend how Americans could swallow that 'nasty slush.'

"'A mere preference,' I explained. We have many curious examples of that kind in this country. One of the most remarkable evidences of insatiable appetite for froth rather than substance is that of the American poultry lover who daily advertises in our New York papers for 1,000 feather beds. As you may well imagine, he is said to have entirely lost his taste for the "'Oh, really!" exclaimed the English-

Important Notice to the General Public. and the Farmers in Particular.

Our competitors in Hamilton and surrounding country say that we sell goods too cheap, that we are hurting the business; perhaps we are, as the quik of our trade is with the farmers. We will speak of their interest. I have been connected with farming business all my lite, owning as many as five farms at one time. The agricultural interest represents about nine-tenths of the capital of the civilized world, and about nine-tenths of the people of the world are en gaged in it. Taking this fact into consideration the agriculturist is not a vide issue as many look upon them; they represent the largest business in the world and upon their business rests all other business. No workingman, business main or protessional man is entitled to any better pay for his services than the farmer is. A farmer is not as well paid for his services as business men and professional men are, if he was he could spend his summer at watering places and his winters in Southern countries, as many business men and professional men do The farmer cannot afford to do this. The farmers, as a body, could dictate to all others if they, would assert their rights in the proper way instead of all others dictating to them as they do now. The farmers have to pay many professionar men for their services more than ten times what they pay him for his services As a body you could remedy many such wrongs, as individuals you can't. My sympathy is with the farmer or with any other class who are not getting a fair proportion of this world's goods for the services they render, and opposed to all others, who, with the same capital and effort, are making more than the farmer on the same basis can make. We are making at least one-fourth more on our capital than it is possible for farmers to make on their capital, and this being the case, we are not selling goods too cheap, but can and will sell cheaper as our trade increases.

These are the views of the People's Store, 81 John Street South. Hamilton. It is three years since we commenced selling on to and 15 per cent. profit, and each year since that has nearly doubled the business of the previous year; this shows that the public appreciates our cheap selling and come to us tor their goods. There is no doubt but what we have all the trade during the the busy season this year on Saturdays, that it will be possible for us to wait on in our present premises. Of course on all days except Saturdays we don't expect to be crowded beyond our capacity to serve. Any day except Saturday you will avoid the crowd and get better attention than we can possibly give you on

The question is often asked us why we sell goods cheaper than others I will give you a few of the reasons why we can and do sell cheaper than others do-first, we are located where rent is not one-quarter what it is in the centre of the city; second, we do our own buying and have the name of being close buyers. Many stores trust this important matter to others. We buy for cash and sell for cash, and have no debts to lose. We are satisfied to work and to live as tarmers having about the same capital are forced to live. We don: think because we keep store that we are entitled to a fine city residence and a house at the Beach and servants to wait on us. Can farmers afford to live such a life, if not, why should we expect it? We keep our store open every day ex cept Sunday about the same hours that the farmers are torced to work. Main other stores open at 8 and close at 5 p.m. Why should we be entitled to shorte: hours and better pay than the farmer who represents in numbers and weatt nine-tenths of the number and capital of the world? There are still other its sons why we can and do sell cheaper than other stores, but these should The coming season we will be better prepared to serve our customers than ever before, especially in Rubber Footwear of all kinds. We bought dire from the manufacturers over six thousand dollars worth of rubbers at about per cent. less than other stores in the city or country can buy. This being case, there is not a store in the city or country that can compete with us in ... ber of all kinds -during the coming season. We have many thousands of ja... in all the different lines of all kinds of rubber footwear, which we can and w. sell at least 30 per cent, cheaper than other store in the city or country car them. Come and see for yourselves and be convinced that we are the chearest in all kinds of goods we carry, and especially in all kinds of rubbers, lumi men's socks for men, boys and youths. We buy in large quantities direct the manufacturers and save the middlemen's profit, and sell them at least 2 cent, cheaper than others sell them. Our stock is now complete for the Summer, Fall and Winter Trade.
