Am Call and Pat. Calf. omfort shie slice made. ce kid, the Hogan Shee

ETHEM OE STORE.

General Public Particular.

business was increased in the to the dome nearly one. therease to the low - a during the past tements but your of the large one of the larg wife as direct of thatte requires CD and kinds or Cara Wg have tarada to supthe state of the second That L. Park cont.

of the court est to or final cheaper

" Man ancents

Here to be street car soft them.

cleate Bayes

for Long Leather

of thirty littley as the at cost the mit will be there all Kinds of Rubber different rubber factories of ver sent This The tier to ter e fortial out prices Christier we a kie li mber the state of the Walls Pager Carrie Landier wice and Heels we We buy in large a credit and We are the only of the man *In state die vert of challet the We can't Attracent we 6 k as some others

n ole cheaper or Heady made The Wheter Wes or made to cheaper. Sec. 11 Reads of the Caps, Shirts of 1 Virginian or constraints could stroter coats, bur in stern of all and the second atan, Inglish and to a three e have room to TO proceed theaper than

Sweat Pale Home Covers,

s theaper than others do. a traffic COLUMN TO A STATE OF THE STATE TOTAL STREET a the stebts THEFT IS A THE Committee of the contract of t go to the

Clufforts

Humiton

a street

17 0 1 0 11 P4

Den & Suite of the process

SCHOOL BOOKS AND SUPPLIES ASK FOR CHECKS. JNO. M. MacKENZIE, Phm. B.

VOLUME 4N.

MILTON, THURSDAY, MAY 7, 1908.

A Savings Account is your best friend.

CONVENIENCE -No formality in opening accounts, or in depositing or withdrawing money.

PRIVACY-Information as to savings accounts is confined to trusted clerks, pledged to secrecy.

H. P. WANZER, Agent, Milton

LOCAL COURTS CALENDAR

Z: FOR 1908.

deneral Sessions of the Peace and to intribute Sittings, with it without Jury, 9th paper Deborah Junk found. We only knew of that the next day. County Court Sittings-formers Terms I to Januar outh April, ath July and 5th October. W. I. DICK, Milton,

MEDICAL.

H. A. McColl, M.B.,

and se sor to Dr. Dame, Galta

METHODIST CHURCH

RES. T. C. BENNETT, B.A., Pastor.

Similar School and Bible Class 2.30 p.m.

KNOX CHURCH

let W M McKay, Minister.

Prayer Meeting Wednesday, at 7.30, p.m.

W. F. M. S. meets on the second Wednesday

The Mission Band meets on the second W

GRACE CHURCH

REV A.J. BELT M.A., Rector

at mid day and 3rd and 5th Sundays, sa m

ST ANDREW'S R. C.

REV FATHER O'RIELLY, P.P.

Travellers' Guide.

GOING RAST.

GOING WEST,

-SUNDAY-

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY

H & N. W. Division.)

EXPERIENCE

GOING NORTH,

101 a.m. 5.20 p.m. 6,57 p.m. 8.46 p.

"ne stay if every month at 4.30 p.m.

friday evening service, 7.30 p.m.

Sun bay Services II a.m. and 7 p m.

dow orth League Monday, at 8 p.m.

Pastura ara Friday, at 7 30 pm

every mearly at a p m

Prayer Meeting Wednesday, at 8 pm.

Canadian Champion

EUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY MORNING At the Office of Publication

Towns there in the United State Co. vent, fr stif bank it advance

ADVERHISING RATES $1.0 UU | $35 HU S.

would non-parensuserted main formid, and charged a soleding ty-Notices of corths deaths and marriage are tusettion, and in cents for each on very point ! Wat. PANTON.

Editor and Proprietor Sunday Services 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.

EGAL.

). DEWAR,

I west rates Office Dewar's Block, Million OLLINRAKE, B.A., Darrister Seacitor, Notary Public Money D. t. Loan Office, Over Bank of Hamilton,

WILLIAM I. DICK, (County Crown Attorney Darrister, Solicitor and Conveyancer Money

O to some Other--Court House, Mr ton, On VICTOR CHISHOLM, Darrister, Solicitor, &c., Notary Public

D Money to loan at lowest rates. Office Next door to Bank of Hamilton, Milton Darrister, &c. Notary Public. Money t loau Office--First door east of Meens

Winn & Cosshoe factory, Main-st., Milte E. W. BOYD, Darrister Solicitor, Notary, Conveyancer Da 21 To- into St., Toronto. Miney to

DENTAL.

ENTIST Honor graduate Toronto Uni

Versity Office: Dewar's Block, apstairs. HARRIS, L.D.S. TENTIST, Oakville, will visit Milton on t D last Wednesday of each month Office:

Private Funds to loan on good farm security at 5 per WILLIAM I. DICK,

TRADE MARKS

Bank of hamilton The Opal Serpent "But"

By FERGUS HUME,

Author of "Bhe Mystery of a Hansom Cab," "Bhe Mandarin's Fan," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, By G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY  "So am I," said Paul. "And, after

All, he is Sylvia's father." Becot turned pale. "I love Sylvia went to bed at 11, leaving Lady Rachel for Lerself," he said with an effort, sleeping." "and if her father had committed twenty murders I would not let her go. senses?

But she must never know." across and giving Paul a friendly grip, wouldn't be fair to blame the girl for on to London next morning Mrs. Krill 4 what her father did before she was '

"We must keep everything from her,

"I'll tell you in a few minutes." Hurd rose and began to pace the nar-drink and smashing the furniture in row limits of the attic. "By the way, the room below. The skipper"do you know that Norman was a se- "What was the skipper's name?"

the story alluded to in the scrap of thel wore was missing, but Mrs. Krill sort, but in Norman's bedroom, which by Krill, and the daughter ran out to nobody ever entered, we found brandy get assistance. When the neighbors bottles by the score-under the bed, entered, Kril, was gone, and, notwithranged along the walls, filling cup-standing all the search made for him, boards, stowed away in boxes. I had he could not be found." Clerk of the Peace. the curiosity to count them. Those "And Jessop?" we found ran up to 500, and Lord 'He turned up and explained that knows how many more he must have he had been frightened on Inding the Shylock when dealing, after i o'clock, by the hock to the hodbost she Hurd started. "Oh," said he dryly. without House, Milton, the last Friday of "My poor Sylvia, what a father," sighed Paul. "But this crime"--Church Directory. on the outskirts of the town, frequented by farm laborers and such like. The business was pretty good, but the couple didn't look to making their fortune. Mrs. Krill was a farmer's daughter."

"A Buckinghamshire farmer," said "How do you know? Oh (on receiv-Sunday School 2.30 p. m. Judge Gorham's ing information), Mrs. Krill told you so? Well, considering the murder of Lady Rachel, she would have done better to hold her tongue and have commenced life with her dead husbands money under a new name. She's a clever woman, too," mused Hurd.

can't understand her being so unnecessarily frank." Hony Communion 1st Sunday of each month "Never mind. Go on," said Paul Impatiently. Hurd returned to his seat and refilied his pipe. "Well, then," he continned, "Krill got drunk and gave his Second Sunday of every month at 1 wife great trouble. Sometimes he thrashed her and blacked her eyes, and he treated their daughter badly too." "How old was the daughter?" "I can't say. Why do you ask?" PACIFIC RAILWAY "I'll tell you later. Go on, please." "Well, then, Mrs. Krill always revenged herself on her husband when o)a.m. 10 06 a.m. 11.15 a.m. 8.08 p.m he was sober and timid, so the couple were evenly matched. Krill was master when drunk, and his wife mistress when he was sober-a kind of seesaw West 90 a n., 5.46 p.m. East 6 48 a.m., 8.08p.m. sort of life they must have led."

"Where does Lady Rachel come in?" "What an impatient chap you are." remonstrated Hurd in a friendly tone. "I'm coming to that now. Lady Rachel quarreled with her father over some the suicide theory. "There you go again. Now am I to tell you all when you interrupt?"

"I beg your pardon. I won't do so "One night-it was dark and stormy-Lady Rachel had a row royal with her father. Then she ran out the hall saying her father would never see her alive again. She may have intended to commit suicide certainly or she may have intended to join her Red Pig. Mrs. Krill brought her indoors and laid her on a bed." "Did she know who the lady was?"

skipper of some craft. at Southampton "Poor girl, to have a murderer for a He was good for nothing, so Mrs. Krill did everything. She declares that she "Did Lady Rachel recover her "Yes-according to Mrs. Krill-but "No," said Hurd, stretching his hand the refused to say who she was and in merely stated that she would sleep at "and I knew you'd stick to her. It the Red Pig that night and would go swore that Lady Rachel had no idea of committing suicide. Well, about midnight Mrs. Krill, who slept in one Hurd. I'll marry her and take her room with her daughter, was awak-came also, as she had been awakened , and was terrified. Mrs. Krill found

Paul nodded, and told the detective also, rather drunk, was retiring to bed what he had learned from Mrs. Kriil. and stumbled by chance into Lady gence. "I see," said he; "what Mrs. dead and shouted for assistance. The Krill says is quite true Drink does poor lady had a silk handkerchief she We must find these things out. I'm change the ordinary nature into the wore tied tightly round her throat going to Christchurch to make inoit; Krill drunk was a murderer and a Jessop saw this, he ran out of the inn thief. Good Lord, and how he drank!" in dismay. Mrs. Krill descended to "One minute," said Paul hastily. "Do give the alarm to her neighbors, but you think Miss Krill is the dead man's "Well," confessed Hurd, nursing his Krill struck her down and struck his child?" chin, "Pash and I went to search the daughter also, making her mouth "Of course. She's as like her mother." Gwynne street house to find if possible bleed. An opal brooch that Lady Ra- as two peas. couldn't drop across anything of that was insensible from the blow given got rid of when he found the bottles woman dead But the police found say." him on his craft at Southampton, and "You'll confuse me. Beecot. What is rora?" "I expect he got drunk every n.ght," he gave evidence. He said that Krill it?"

"What was the skipper's name?" room, made many think he was the culprit, especially as Jessop said that Krill had noticed the brooch and com mented on the opals." "He was a traveler in jewels once.

according to his wife." young artist she wanted to marry. He would not allow the lover to come to Afterward he vanished, as I say, and think I was another pigeon to pluck.

Rev. W. H. Stevens, Paisley, Ont.: Afterward he vanished, as I say, and think I was another pigeon to pluck.

Psychine seemed just the stimulant my practical person. "But here we are at the practical person." But here we are at the practical person. "But here we are at the practical person." But here we are at the practical person. "But here we are at the practical person." But here we are at the practical person. "But here we are at the practical person." But here we are at the practical person. "But here we are at the practical person." But here we are at the practical person. "But here we are at the practical person." But here we are at the practical person. "But here we are at the practical person." But here we are at the practical person. "But here we are at the practical person." But here we are at the practical person. "But here we are at the practical person." But here we are at the practical person. "But here we are at the practical person." But here we are at the practical person. "But here we are at the practical person." But here we are at the practical person. "But here we are at the practical person." But here we are at the practical person. "But here we are at the practical person." But here we are at the practical person. "But here we are at the practical person." But here we are at the practical person. "But here we are at the practical person." But here we are at the practical person are person. "But here we are at the practical person are person." But here we are at the practical person are the hall, so Lady Rachel said she would became a pawnbroker in Gwynne ystem needed. I shall add my testimony like the mention of the Christian the Red Pig. Nice and comfy, isn't why you arsk them questions." so in one way and another the matter laid in the family vault, and nothing > more was heard of Lemuel Krill." "What did Mrs. Krill do?" "She stopped on at the inn, as she and helped her, so she did very well. restored to its normal condition.

for the jewels to Pash." "Ha," said Paul, walking excitedly the fire, "and yet I am not sure. him give up the brooch, which he afterward pawned at Stowley, though why he should go near Mrs. Kriff's old home I can't understand." "Is Stowley near her old home?"

"Yes-in Buckinghamshire. he might get money."

all, Jessop might have killed Krill him-"But how did Jessop get the brooch?"

Paul detailed what Sylvia and Debe- am a good sister." rah had said. "So if she is over thir- "Well, you are. But there's money in "Hum." said Hurd again as the sey." ty," said Beecot, "she can't be Krill's the business also If I can get that fram lowed down to the Christchurch Married!" cried Vist to either case, she has no right to the

"I'll have to look into that. Mean-er is as square a man as I know." while, I've got plenty to do."

sald Paul, thinking. "When he locked when drunk at d like a demon, as Mrs. "The sugar and that hawker," and Hay, you may be sure. Nor does that is, than at the big hotel. The curries leave?"

intrusion, he could drink till reeling. police that k: had kided lady Ravolumes, "will you lend me these?" went on the stage. You talk too much "Yes a man called Hokar." But training and Silver Medals of Not that I think he ever did reel," went the for the second the broadh, which which which went on the stage, for the second the which went on the stage, for the second the wind of the second that it is a man canen mount.

"Yes. Be careful. They are not "Oh, no, I don't," reforted Miss Qian, "Aurora, that's the man-who left the way is shown.

stand now. Sober, he was a timid fool; I said, declared the deceased day nev-you mean? Well, I didn't intend to er mentioned the idea of making away look up that point, as I do not see how with herself However, Krill's flight Mrs. Krill can be implicated. How and the chance that, being drunk, he ever, I'll take a note of that," and this "I'll tell you about it. Lemuel Krill might have strangled the lady for the he did and then continued: "But I'r and his wife kept the Red Pig at sake of the brooch while out of the anxious to find Jessop. I shouldn't be at all surprised to learn that he com mitted the double crime."

"The double crime?" "Yes. He might have strangled Lady Rachel and twenty years later have killed Krill. I can't be sure, but think he is the guilty person."

HE next afternoon Hurd was on his way to the former the journey he glanced at his the private sitting room of the Red notes and arranged what inquiries he Pig on the plea that I had come down. should make. It struck him as strange for a change of air and expected my that Mrs. Krill should have told Paul brother" of her association with the Red Pig considering the reputation of the place in connection with Lady Rachel San impatiently. "Well, the first thing dal's murder or suicide. It would have I chapped eyes on was a portrait of been better had Mrs. Krill changed her name by letters patent and started a new life on her dead husband's mon-. The detective could not understand the reason for this unnecessary frankness. caution to call on Pash and note down a description of the satior—presumably and am pleased to say that I am greatly and asked the landlady who was the Pig. improved in health. I was troubled swell." told you. I'eople were sorry for her with my throat, but now I find it about Mother and daughter have lived at find my work very much less taxing. Hurd almost jumped from his sent. doorway shading her eyes with the this medicine does the Red Pig all these years, highly believe Psychine is all claimed for it." "That's queer," he said. "The woman palm of her hand from the setting sun.

"But how did he get money to start Gwynne street. He learned that the as a bookseller? Premises are not man (who had given no name) leased in Gwynne street for nothing" tall and stout, with the flushed skin o "Well, he might have got money on a habitual drinker of strong waters and reddish hair mixed with gray. He "No. The brooch was pawned by a siso had a scar running from his right nautical gentleman." Paul started up. "Captain Jessop, perhaps. You remember?" he said excitedly. with satisfaction, "I see you underbrooch to hear what you would say. Yes, Jessop must have pawned the brooch at Stowley, and it must have been Jessop who came with the note about the room. "Then it would seem that Jessop and Krill were in league?" "I think so," said Hurd, staring at ever, after pawning the brooch I ex. Qian, and Paul would have been con. "With a proviso she should hold her before the crime. Then he must have made Krill sign the paper ordering the Jewels to be given up by Pash so that

"A kind of blackmail, in fact." "Well," said Hurd doubtfully, "after up Sylvia and Deborah in the upper Kill told you had left the room sev-Paul related what Sylvia had said aice Mr. Beecot know that we are oh, they are delightfully hot." Miss The name of Names and Names of Names and Names and Names are on the name of Names and Names and Names are on the name of Names and Names and Names are on the name of Names and Names and Names are on the name of Names and Names and Names are on the name of Names and Names and Names are on the name of Names and hours, 19 a.m., 12 to 2 p.m., and 6 to 8 p.m. room-I can understand now why he eral times. The last time he came about thuggism. Hurd sat down and brother and sister."

in the pawnbroking way. I under- had committed stilled Mrs krill as "the night the crime was committed, you wanted to know of my discoveries

CHAPTER XVIII.

Preacher's Opinions

Rev. P. K. McRae, Forks Baddeck . B.: "I always count it a pleasure to ecommend the Dr. Sloeum Remedier my parishioners. I believe there nothing better for throat and lung em. For speaker's sore throat I have and gambling went on as usual. ound Psychine very beneficial."

could not agree Some thought Lady Rev. R. M. Browne, Amherst Head, Rachel had committed suicide and N.S., "I have often recommended had met before. I expect the meeting It stood on the very verge of the town others that Krill had murdered her. Psychine since taking it myself, for it in Pash's office was a got up game." others that Krill had murdered her. Psychine since taking it myself, for it Then the family didn't want a scandal, is a cure for the troubles you specify."

Then the family didn't want a scandal, is a cure for the troubles you specify."

"You said that before, Billy. How rows. The house itself was a white-Rev. Chas. Stirling, Bath, N.B.: "I you repeat yourself! Yes, there's washed, thatched, rustic cottage with respected, until they saw the handbills These are earnest preachers of the who is devoted to Miss Norman and In her the detective saw the image of about Krill. Then the money was gospel of Psychine. They know where who nursed her since she was a baby Deborah Junk, now Tawsey. She was ton

That Jessop-who had tried to obtain possession of the jewels on the morning fafter the crime had been committed in temple to his mouth, and although this was partly concealed by a beard, yet i' was distinctly visible. The man was dressed in blue serge, carried his large individual who had pawned the brooch at Stowley, Hurd fancied he might ! in Southampton, as, judging from the devidence given at the inquest on Lady Rachel's remains, that was the port of call for the mariner.

How. a gay laugh. She was Miss Aurora Junk, who is now the landlady." siderably astonished had he overheard tongue." the detective and the actress had the learn, has nothing to conceal.

"It's the safest place to talk in," ex- 'I don't think it will matter." chocolate and eating during the con Rachel's murder?" versation. "Of course, I told the land "No. You gave me only a hint when right enough. But walls have ears. I I'm more cantious than you."

rora: asked Hurd. Miss Qian nodded. "A great deal hodded considering I have been in the place child or else she must have been born thousand pounds, you'll have your station "it seems all fair and above down the tray and put......"

"I know you'll treat me straight, Billy," said the actress, with much satis- thel case I didn't inquire about him," touse and a bit put by 1.1. "It's strange," said Hurd musingly, faction, "I always say that my broth- said Autora. "I've told you every tim a 'usband I aim! "The deuce you do," said Hurd, rath "Any one else stopping at the inn?" Your sister was her "There's another thing I have to er vexed. "I hope you don't go telling "No And it's not a bad little place." Mr. Norman before st. every one that I am your brother, Au after all. The rooms are clean and the laundry," observed Ho-did so-he could go to the cellar and the skipper had a final stared. "That must be bosh," he said, "You'd best keep it dark and say smile of ecstasy. "But, then, a native steet of another bountshess." take possession of the shop key left on drink, and then Jessop retired to find looking at the novel, "and yet it's nothing, Aurora. It's just as well you makes them."

expect the brandy only converted him find on I know what you are them just yet, nor can I go into the Her brother shrugged his shoulders. and Hurd rapidly told her of the epiabout to say Vient come to that Hindoo business, let alone this age of He was very fond of Aurora, but he sode. "And a clever business man," said shortly 1. of the trust this yern first. Miss Krill. The first thing I have to saw her many faults, and she certainly Hurd. "You know Aaron Norman was it was also regard 'mat he in Lady do is to go to Christchurch and see"— had too long a tongue for one engaged.

> she saw the handfills." at Christchurch?" she said, pouting. "Well. I do. But Hay"-"Oh, he's all "ight. He's going to marry Miss Kril and her money and is getting each together by needing young Sandal That fool will play and keeps losing his money, although I've warned him " "Then don't warn him. I wish to with his pretty sister tripping beside no more as what he may be catch Hay redhanded.

"Aurora, you don't mean to say he has anything to do with the murder of Aaron Norman ?" "Well, I don't go so far as to say abode of Mrs. Krill. During that, Billy. But when I got settled in.

"Yes, that's all right, Billy," she sai:

"Hum," said Hurd, nursing this chin in his hand, "he may have given that to Miss Krill during the engagement." "I dare say," rejoined the actress Before leaving town he took the pre-tartly, "for he has been engaged for many a long day say two years." "I thought so," said Hard triumphantly. "I always fancled the meet ing at Pash's office was a got up "What made you think so?" "Because, when disguised as the Count de la Tour, l'overheard Hay address Miss Kril, as Maud, and it' was the first time she and her mother Miss Norman came across it and told lookin after 'em." roubles or weakness or run-down sys came to his rooms. Bandal was there, lost money myself," said Hard, with was hushed up. The jury brought in have used Psychine in my family; the an inscription on the portrait From a badly painted sign of a large red a verdict of suicide by a majority of results were marvelous. I have visited Grexon to Maud. with much love, sow. Outside were benches, where one, so you can see how equally they people who state that they never used Sweet, isn't it, when you think what topers sat, and the windows were dewere divided. Lady Rachel's body was its equal. I strongly recommend it. an icicle the man is? There is also lightfully old fashloned, diamond paned eyes and a badly painted face." "Well, that's a point," said Hurd, in a loud and hearty voice, whi making a note. "What did she say minded the detective more than about the photograph?" "Oh, that it was one of Mr. Hay, who in and 'ave some tea?"

"She is. I got a lot out of her." Aurora, at a hint from her "Then there can be nothing to con-went to her bedroom to chia: ceal on the part of Mrs. Krill?" "Well," said Aurora, throwing the she brought in the tray. "I lin empty sweetmeat bag out of the win- sister," said he. dow and brushing her lap, "so far as I Miss Junk nearly dropped " can discover, Mrs. Krill a perfectly "Lor', now, respectable person and has lived for ain't wrote to whirty years as the landlady of Red Pig. Matilda acknowledged the about the murder." "Matilda is wrong," said the detec tive dryly; "Miss Krill gets the money." Aurora smiled. "From what I heard," Miss Krill has to do what her mother! tells her. She's nobody, and her mothe daintily dressed little woman saw him well to her. Then the money came and at once entered the carriage with she gave up the Red Pig to Matilda her conversation with Mr. Hurd. But! "No Mrs. Krill, so far as I can she was the landlady of a small pub plained Miss Qian, producing a bag of Told you ask questions about Lady lady at the Red Pig that my brother you sent me down. I didn't like to was coming down, so we can go there venture on ground I wasn't sure of. don't think railway carriages have. "Well, I'll tell you everything now." though, and we have much to say, said Hard, and gave a rapid sketch of What he had learned from the news-"Have you found out anything, An. papers and the Scotland Yard papers 7 inlative to the Sandal affair. Aurora.

"But Matilda Junk said nothing of only twenty-four hours. It's a good that She merely stated that Mr. Lemthing I'm out of an engagement, Billy, nell krill had gone to London over or I shouldn't have time to leave Lon twenty years ago and that his wife don or to look after that man Hay. I have nothing of him until she saw the > board What about Jessop?" "Knowing so little of the Lady Ra me still spigle. But now i

The paid in advance of the post is of pa not clever over the books. Bart sold Rachel's last to is to her i, ther and those but from all accounts he was a refine the books. Bart sold Rachel's last to is to her i, ther and in private matters. "What about Hay?"

And see if Mrs. Krill was at home in private matters. "What about Hay?"

Seem that Mrs. Krill knew of the for years respectable. I seem that Mrs. Krill knew of the for years respectable i Aurora raised her eves "I thought whereabouts of her husband before em ten, and when his > also" said Hurd Brother and sister looked at one an- ant of poor Mi ic other. The case was becoming more who killed 'Im' and more interesting Mrs. Krill evi- Doesn't your and two dently knew more than she chose to she!" cried Matsida it t admit But at this moment the train bouncing up Why the stopped, and they got out. Hurd took a lookin' for him, not is so his handbag and walked into the town overmuch. And as he is true him She gave him an additional piece has he killed a poor has "Ah," Miss Qian nodded, "you may of information before they arrived at You'll sleep in the man catch him redhanded in a worse mat- the Red Pig. "This Hokar is not at all ladded Matilda, as if that w popular," she said. "They say he eats ure "Strangled, she was" eats and dogs. Yes I've talked to !! I several old women, and they say they! lost their animals. One cat was found?

strangled in the yard, and" "Strangled!" interrupted the detec- were never sure which is a tive. "Hum, and the man's an Indian, course, it was before it." possibly a thug."

Hurd explained. "I ran through the oughter. An' Miss Maril look lent by Beecot last night," added, "and was so interested I sat" "You do look chippy," said his sister ing evening dress at most candidly, "but from what you say, was be ever down here there are no thugs living." "No the author says so. Still, it's queer, this strangling, and then the mouths, and Miss Mainl ernel way in which the man was murdered Just what a Hindoo would do. The sugar, too" -= "Oh nonsense! Hokar left the sugar!

by mistake. If he had intended to murder Norman he wouldn't have giv. en himself away." "I expect he never thought any one would guess he was a thug. The adnys. It was the merest chance that Tusord's and sich like, Mr Hay a la .

"I don't believe in such coincidences," [

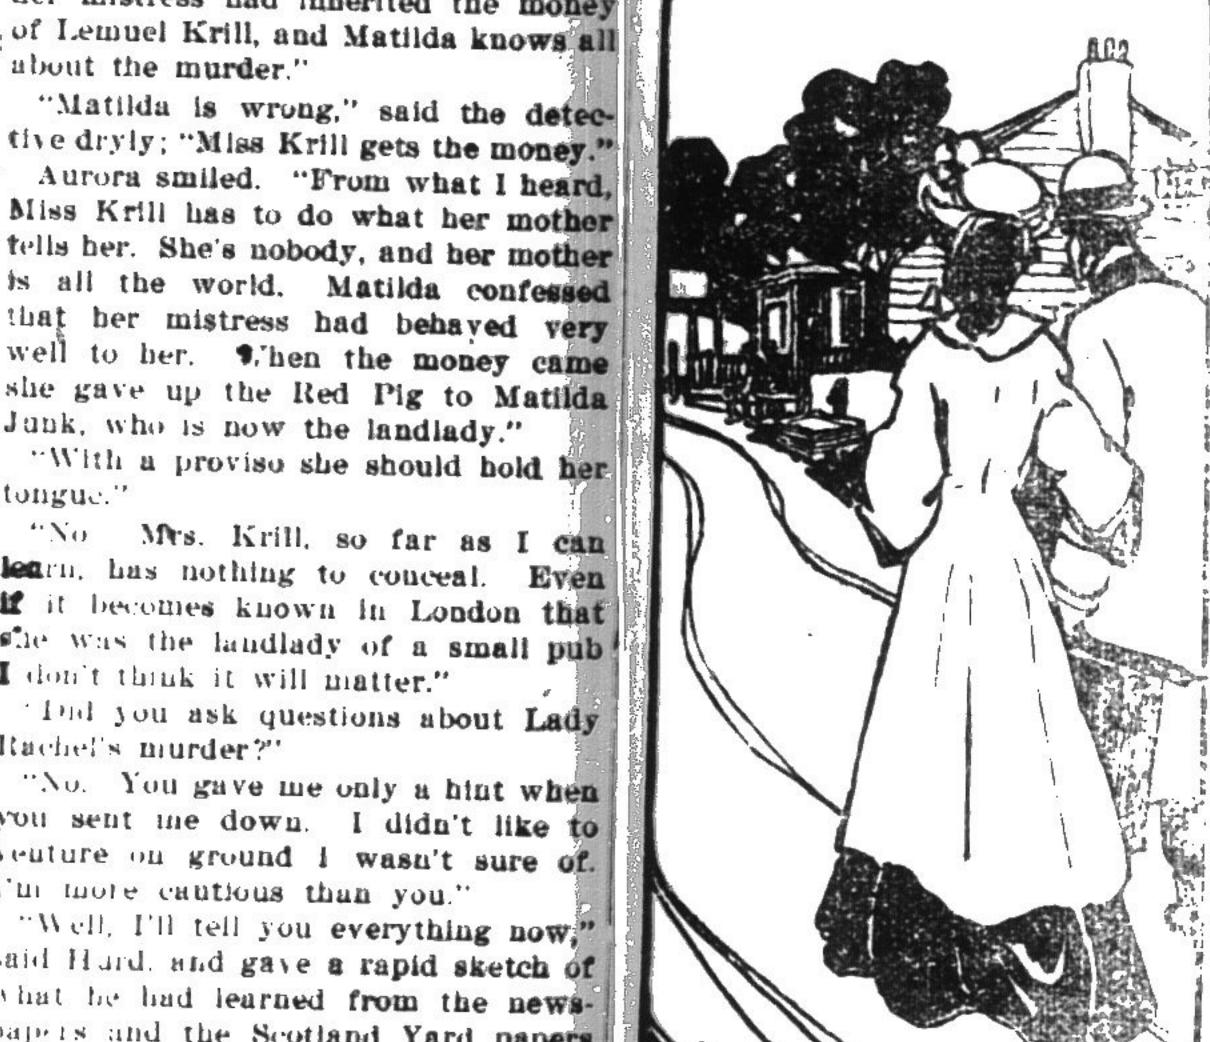

a date. Two years ago the photograph casements. Quite a Dickens inn of upon the advice of a co-Hev. J. S. I. Wilson, markdale, Ont.: was given. I admired the photograph the old coaching days was the Red who has seen the cred

But Hurd gave the pretty, quaint you give your baby or hostel only a passing glance. He was Baby's Own Tablets von of the same gigantie build, with the Bab

Photographic Chemicals, Volex Developer

Druggist and Optician, MILTON

looks—a large Dutch doll with beady "He will only stay until tomogrow "You're welcome, sir," shid Mai. was Miss Krill's young man, and that Hurd nodded and repaired to they had been engaged for two years"—tiny sitting room, where he is "Matilda seems to be a chatterbox." Photograph of Hay on the total.

food good and the charges low. I'd a cup of ten

Mercy!" Matilda dise a I forgot you don't know about that," room. "Why, that's his and "And possibly about the murder they gave me the good Pla To think of Laster

Adehel Sandal committed ferable, being more ton force "What's a thug?" asked Aurora, star- back. But the man as of i a gent, bein' so 'aughty light > went to see this gent in town Meanin' Mr. Hay," said Mr. flessly, "Well, sir, they d. go and miss would foller an

"Dd they ever visit Mr. Huy claimed, but as the circumstance of of they speak. Psychine cures all is called Deborah Junk." Lady Rachel's fate was so old nobbdy throat, lung and stomach troubles. It "I know that," said Aurora. "I'm same ruddy face, sharp, black eyes he was two weeks thought of mentioning it till this young is a great voice strengthener, acting not quite a fool, Billy. I mentioned and boisterous manner. But she had small lord did so to you, and I, as you see, directly on the vocal, respiratory and Deborah Junk, whom I saw at the not the kindly look of Deborah, and Tablets, he is now a digestive organs, thus specially adapted inquest on Norman's body. The land- of the two sisters Hurd preferred the boy." Sold by medicine degler-"What is your opinion, Hurd?" asked to public speakers. At all druggists, lady said she was her sister, but she one he already knew. 50c and $1.00, or Dr. T. A. Sloeum, Ltd., had not heard of her for ages. And. "This is my brother, Miss Junk," Dr. Williams' Medicine Co, Brocky... this Matilda is just like Deborah in said Aurora, marching up to the door.

With Champion—