SENTENCED TO DEATH. -- Yesterday at Peel assizes Stephan Swyryda, a Russian Pole, was convicted of the murder of Olak Loutick, a boy, 18 years of age, lately arrived from Austria. The murdererer told his victim at Toronto that he would get him work with a farmer, Electroplating induced him to leave the city, clubbed him to death and hid his body in Fasken's bush, near Clarkson. The motive the boy had brought with him from his European home. The murderer was sentenced to be hanged on 11th Feb. next. As the jury recommended mercy the penalty may be committed to imprisonment for life, but the judge held out no hope of this.
