trary circulated in Milton, there is much for leaks in the mains and an examination of the connections from the mountain springs to the reservoir would be more appreciated by the citizens than the drilling operations near the creek.

The drill operating under orders from the town council and at work in the rear and Mrs. Thomas H. Lavery, Rev. Annot been struck and the bill of expense mounts steadily.

The combined supply from the springs which feed the reservoir is not enough at present. The members of the town council who are responsible for the drilling must be optimists with a vengeance a single spring which will supply the struck there will be no opposition to the use of its water for drinking and general domestic purposes, contaminated must be by soakage from the creek.
