Manitoba wheat is wonderfully rich in sturdy gluten. And, think of it, FIVE ROSES is milled exclusively from the very cream of the Manitoba wheat berries. So FIVE ROSES must be awfully thirsty, don't you see. In your mixing bowl it greedily absorbs more water. So you get more loaves than usual without using more flour. You use less.

Your flour lasts longer, doesn't it? Less trips to your dealer. That's how HAVE KUSES saves money Actually and Charles and Inches Use this economical flour.

Try this Thirsty Flour

A very thirsty flour. Absorbs a lot of water.

Because it contains so much gluten.
