Why are so Many Barns in Ontario Not Painted?

It is on this continent only that we view the sight of unpainted barns. It is a rare sight in Europe, for the farmers in that country have long ago learned to conserve their buildings.

It is an insurance, more correctly speaking weather insurance, and an unpainted weather blown barn is certainly a prey to the elements. Is not lumber worth conserving at present prices? Get our prices for Homestead Red, Green and Grey Barn Paint.
