hit in the groin by a foul from his own bat in the second and forced to retire. Berg took his place and did fine work. The good ladies of Bronte provided dainty lunch for the visiting players and the people of Bronte gave them a good reception. They rooted hard for their own boys, but were fair and generous to the visitors. Bronte players and people are good sports, good winners and, when they lose, good loosers, but their good nature is not often tested by losses. The diamond and field were in the best of condition. There was a wire fence to keep the crowd back from the base lines and there were men on duty to see that nobody got in front of it who had no right to do so. All arrangements were good and, though their team did not win, the people of Bronte have reason to be proud of their civic holiday. The gate receipts were about $250.

The by-law was read third time. Mr. Hillmer moved, seconded by hits and one run for the rest of the cratic standards that generally prevail in Canada. It seems to me that there is no place where there should be absolute equality more than in our courts. Nor do I see any reason why lawyers should be given precedence over their fellows any more than that official precedence should be given to certain men in other professions or callings. Canadians would not of themselves have created the office of King's Counsel. It had not its origin in Canada and has not its roots in our soil. When we brought over our political institutions from the old land, we brought with the good timber some dead-wood. and the office of King's Counsel was
