Dr. Anderson referred to the war had done for the soldiers during and He soldiers during and He sold they had so after the war. He said they had received more liberal treatment than those of any other country. He gave James Murdock, the Canadian Vice-President of the I.L.P. and Liberal candidate in South Toronto, some attention. He said that it was not true, as Mr. Murdock had stated here, that he had resigned from the Board of Commerce because members of the Government had interfered with his work and had prevented interference with profiteering. The fact was that Mr. Murdock was incompetent, did not know how to go about his work and had to give it up. He was nothing more than a soap box orator and supporters applauded him loudly. Mr. Raney spoke chiefly on the Ford company's profits, from the Canadian plant at Ford, on automobiles. He said that on a capitalization of $125,-000 the company had cleared $5,000,-000 in one year.

In his reply Dr. Anderson contradicted Mr. Raney. He said the $5,000,-000 had been the total profits of the Ford company in Canada and the United States. Up to this time the meeting was most orderly, with no interruptions, but Dr. Anderson had difficulty in making himself heard. Mr. Raney got up twice to interrupt, but was howled down. A stranger, who said he was a soldier, heckled Dr. Anderson on the subject of soldiers' pay during the war, with loud applause from the Progressives. He was contradicted by Pte. Baylis, of Milton. Knowing that you are deeply interested in the pending election for the House of Cemmons, I am soliciting your support and influ-business of the country in a state of depression not experienced since previous to 1896, when Conservative Government of that day had to give way under similar circumstances to the will of the people as expressed at the polls. Again in no uncertain manner the people are which seem to be forgotten, is that there never was a Farmers' Party while the Liberals were in power. During the McKenzie regime there was no Farmer's Party. From 1896 to 1911 during the Laurier regime there was no Farmer's Party. Why? Because the Legislation given by the Liberal Government was satisfactory and there was on that ac-
