The man that teaches the truth is your friend. Is the man cruel that tells you the truth? The man who tells you there is no hell is the cruel man and the man who tells you there is a hell is your friend. Is it kindness to point out the danger. I don't believe you can remember who you heard a talk on hell. Well, you'll hear about hell while I'm here. God Almighty put hell in the bible and any teacher who sidesteps it because there are people who refuse to believe in it is getting out of teaching. He is simply trimming his sails to catch a passing breeze of popularity. But Jesus came and died to save you from hell. Oh, believe and be saved. We find many who tell us if we do the best we can we will get to heaven. I tell you that is a lie of the devil. Then we have some religious pharisees who are always telling us to keep the Commandments. They, my friends, will not make you the Lord's. I warn you, believe God.
—J. Moulin.

THE CANADIAN CLUB

The Canadian Club commemorated the 179th anniversary of the birth of Scotland's greatest poet, Robert Burns, at the Milton Inn, last Tuesday, when Rev. G. McGregor, Grant, of Toronto, in a most brilliant address, in his deep religious side of the poet's life, under the theme, "The Gospel According to Burns." The speaker referred to the criticism which Burns frankly made of himself and declared that, notwithstanding his inconsistencies, he was a teacher of religion and brought home to his generation the meaning of loving mercy and walking humbly before God. Although it was a revolutionary idea for the 18th century, Burns scorned the pretensions of the aristocracy and upheld the imperishable worth of honesty and kindness. That he gloried in the lot of the common man and saw beauty in the masses of the poor is evident from his poem, "A Man's Man for a' That." Mr. Grant stated that, in "Gott's Saturday Night," Burns paraphrased a part of the Sermon on the Mount and revealed his confidence that prayer is not in vain and that the hands of God are ever ready to assist those in distress. In remembering that Burns saw his father crushed by a ruthless landlord and hurried into an early grave, the speaker said that one does not wonder that he attacked the aristocracy. He was pleading for a brotherhood of man, that the world might better set its house in order, Burns taught the beauty of tolerance, and the lines from his pen declaring that "man's inhumanity to man makes countless thousands mourn," have made him popular through the years. To those who attacked him for his sins, Burns replied in a tone to declare that he was not offensive and then in the spirit of the Great Teacher, he rebuked them: "To judge not, lest they be judged." In his address to a friend, Burns stated that he would love, earnestly, principles of religion upon children and being a lover of his fellow men, he extended pity to those in need. That is the message to Burns' best loved poem, "Gott's Saturday Night." Mr. Grant reminded his audience that it records hallowed scenes of the writer's childhood. In concluding, the speaker recalled the line from Burns' poem that "An honest man's the noblest work of God" and said that although five generations have come and gone since the poet set down his pen, time has not changed his teachings of love, honesty, integrity and fair dealings between man and man are the important things in life, and we are doomed if we do not heed his voice.

Rev. H. P. Andrew, of Mansewood, contributed a number of selections on the bagpipes, which added interest and enjoyment to the occasion.

TOWN COUNCIL

Frank Peare was re-appointed a member of the High School Board for the years 1938-39-40.

Messrs. George E. Elliott and Frank Peare, representing the High School Board, addressed the council regarding the proposed addition of two new rooms to the school to take care of the household economics and manual training classes. No action was taken by the council. This question will not be submitted to a vote of the ratepayers.

The next meeting of the council will be held on Tuesday evening, Feb. 15, at 8 o'clock.

Lorne Matthews, truck driver for the Fordwick Creamery, was sentenced to thirty days recently for stealing a sum of money from his employers and reporting to the police at Edgewater that he had been robbed by two thugs.

COMING CHAMPIONS NEED SUPPORT!

Many hockey fans in Milton and vicinity have so far missed the opportunity of seeing the great hockey team in action. After a shaky start, when they lost two games by only one goal margin, the local Junior O.H.A. entry has done remarkably well. Don Tufford has succeeded in guiding the team to a play-off position in their group. There have been five games played in Milton, which have produced as fine a brand of hockey as has been seen here in a long while. The fans who have seen the Juniors play are very enthusiastic in their praise. Can't we make a real attempt to support a team that is destined, if given your backing, to win their group and go on and take the Junior O Championship?

BORN

Tufford.—In Milton, on Jan. 29, 1938, to Mr. and Mrs. Austin Tufford, a son.

DIED

Robson.—In Trafalgar Township, on Monday, Jan. 26, 1938, Robert Thomas Robson, in his 82nd year. The funeral will take place from his late residence, lot 9, 8th line, Trafalgar, this (Thursday) afternoon, Feb. 3, at 2 p.m. Service in Holy Presbyterian Church at 2:30 p.m. Interment in Hornby Presbyterian Church Cemetery.

The Hospital receives no support from the Toronto Federation for Community Service because patients are accepted from all parts of the Province.
